Truman Accuses President

Claims Eisenhower Put Road Blocks In Way of Adequate Farm Legislation

DES MOINES (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman last night accused President Eisenhower of betraying the farmers and then said Eisenhower may sign the controversial farm bill "in an effort to get re-elected."

He called Eisenhower a "do-nothing President" and said Eisenhower has been putting "road blocks in the way" of adequate farm legislation.

While the Senate in Washington completed action on the congressional farm legislation, Truman, unaware that the bill had been voted on, addressed an Iowa Democratic fund-raising dinner.

"The Democrats have led the fight (for high price supports) and I hope they lay a bill to help the farmer right on the President's desk," he said.

"I don't know what Ike is going to do with that bill. He could veto it, of course, because it is directly contrary to his philosophy of reducing farm prices."

"However, this is an election year, and he may well decide that it's the better part of valor to sign this bill in an effort to get re-elected."

"Gen. Eisenhower has personally been doing all he could to keep Congress from raising the support prices farmers get," Truman said.

"This is one of the most amazing records of political betrayal I have ever seen in all my years of public life."

The former President spoke to about 1,200 persons who paid $25 a plate for the Jackson Day dinner.

Truman recalled his 1948 campaign in Iowa and asserted "we are on the road to victory again today as we were in 1948."

The situation at that time, he said, was that a Republican Congress had "tried to block everything the Democratic President was trying to do for the people."

"This year," Truman added, "it's a Republican President that's causing the trouble, instead of a Republican Congress, but the results are just as bad—maybe worse."

300 Students Will Appear In Orchestra

Approximately 300 students from the schools of Sedalia will play in the all-school orchestra, which tonight will present a free concert at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium. Mrs. Carl Schrader, director of music in the Sedalia schools, will direct the orchestra in the concert scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

The program for the evening is as follows: "Nadia," Pulaski; "Sonata," Waltz, Suranov; "Scene Chinoise," Drake; Flute Quartet, "Pizicato Polka," played by Nancy Wyett, Carl Hilgedick, Lois Kirby and Janice Curran, from Horace Mann School. Two chorales—"Glory, Laud and Honor," "Chorale in the Dorian Mode," Bach; "True Blue March," Isaac; "Silver Buckles," Monroe; "Carmelita," Tango, Leland; "Valse," Adams and "The King's Highway," Isaac.

Special numbers on the orchestra program will be the Flute Quartet from Horace Mann School, accompanied by Mrs. Marks, a tenor solo "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" sung by Dick Shoemaker, and a trumpet trio composed of Ronnie Hoppes, Clifford Robinson and Bill Sutton, who will play "Valse Brillante" by Paul Yoder. Marilyn Kelley will accompany the special numbers from the High School.

IN BRIG—Marine Staff Sgt. Matthew McKeon, above, 31, of Worcester, Mass., has been placed in the brig pending the findings of a court of inquiry into his leadership of his platoon on a night march into a swamp that ended in death for six Marine recruits. General Randolph Pate, Marine Commandant, has been quoted as saying Sergeant McKeon "positively did not have the authority" to take the men on the march. (NEA Telephoto)

Groups Ask Ike To Sign

Two Major Farm Organizations Call For Farm Bill Okay Despite Objections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the three major national farm organizations called upon President Eisenhower today to sign the new farm bill despite the features objectionable to him.

They are the National Grange and the National Farmers Union. Both had used their influence to get Congress to pass the controversial measure.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, which worked against the bill, has not yet offered recommendations to the White House. But its president, Charles B. Shuman, said yesterday the measure was "ill considered" and would "return to the discredited programs that contributed to much of the present glutted market situation."

The bill, center of controversy for months and already deeply involved in the election year political strife, cleared Congress last night when the Senate approved it. The House endorsed it earlier in the day. Neither vote was close.

The measure calls for a one-year return to farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity—the system in effect during the Truman years and blamed by Eisenhower for present farm surpluses.

There are other provisions which Eisenhower opposes, and administration lieutenants in Congress predicted he will veto it.

Key Democrats, who engineered the measure through Congress in an all-out effort to defeat the administration, declared that it is this bill or nothing. They predicted Eisenhower will sign it.

At Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is vacationing, an aide said the President "still does not think the bill meets the test of a good bill." But he didn't say what Eisenhower might do.

Along with objectionable features, the bill contains one major provision Eisenhower has sought. That is a soil bank program to pay farmers subsidies of as much as $1,200,000,000 a year for not planting cropland to commodities already in surplus.

Both the Grange and the Farmers Union, in urging that Eisenhower sign the bill, contended that farm income has declined to where it is essential that the measure be made law. They said they had no hope of other legislation this year if the President vetoed the bill.

In a telegram to Eisenhower, addressed to the "Ninth hole of the Augusta Country Club" President James G. Patton of the Farmers Union said "I hope you will pause to give some consideration to the American family farm."

Other hospital spokesmen told the committee the item by item needs of their institutions, including work necessary to fireproof them as recommended by the Missouri Inspection Bureau after a survey.

But Dr. Baur said he thought the state would experience "extreme difficulty in staffing" such an institution.

"It is most difficult to get doctors to treat that kind of patients," he said.

None of the $75 million bond issue approved by the voters Jan. 24 has been allocated for a separate institution for seniles but several of the present hospitals have asked for funds to build new buildings for such patients.

Baur emphasized that $2,939,000 approved by the House for buildings at the fire damaged Fulton hospital would not expand the institution by 500 beds but would merely provide replacements for the facilities destroyed.

Ike To Begin Campaign By Dinner Speech

GOP Party Leaders Meet in Washington Next Tuesday Night

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower will kick off his re-election campaign with an address to 800 Republican party leaders at a Washington dinner next Tuesday evening.

The President's vacation headquarters announced this today as White House press secretary James C. Hagerty hit back at former President Truman's charge that Eisenhower has been a "do-nothing president."

Truman said further in a Des Moines speech last night that the President has compiled "one of the most amazing records of political betrayal" on farm matters that he (Truman) ever has seen.

"I don't believe that Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it," Hagerty told newsmen in response to a request for comment.

Truman's criticism and the White House rejoinder came as Eisenhower pondered whether to sign or veto an omnibus farm bill on which Congress completed action last night. The President has let it be known he doesn't think it is a good bill, but Hagerty declined again today to speculate about the possibility of a veto.

The press secretary said Eisenhower's political address at a Washington hotel next Tuesday evening will be made in response to an invitation by Leonard W. Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Will Be at Convention Hall—Annual Jaycee Home Show To Be Held April 24 to 26

Springtime, and with it comes the annual Home Show, which is always a place of interest for the entire family. The Home Show, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held at Convention Hall, Liberty Park, April 24-26, from 2:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Jaycees have been working hard to get everything in readiness for an extra good show of building materials and everything to go in a home to make it comfortable and beautiful.

All the downstairs booths have been sold and every exhibitor will have something new and different to offer in the way of fixing up the home, old or new. Paint stores will have interesting ideas in decorating, inside and outside; furniture stores will have attractive furnishings, and again this year every appliance will have new and fascinating additions. The home construction and improvement companies will be on hand to offer plans for nicer homes, the plumbers will have the latest in bathroom and kitchen fixtures, and there will be the popular wrought iron trimmings for the outside of the home with a few new ideas for the use of wrought iron inside. Sewing machines will catch the eye of the women who like to sew or would like to know how, and there will be dozens of other things. This is the one event of the year nobody wants to miss.

Exhibitors will give out pamphlets telling about the things in their booth, some will have samples or souvenirs, some will have gifts, and always somebody remembers to give out shopping bags to put all the things collected from the booths in to make things easier.

Although the plans are not yet completed, there are special things in addition to the exhibits this year, one thing being entertainment on the stage.

General chairman of the show is Don Richardson, and Bob Hare is in charge of the layout and construction committee. On the committee, too, are Gil Lampton, Jim Askren and Jack Faber. But there will be plenty more Jaycees in the act before it is over, as well as the Jaycee-Ettes who will have charge of the kiddie room so Mom and Pop can enjoy the show without hiring a baby sitter.

Egypt and Israel Warplanes Clash, One Is Shot Down

Israel Claims Five New Raids By Arab Commandos, Clamor For Retaliations Mount

JERUSALEM (AP)—Warplanes of Egypt and Israel clashed today and Israel claimed first blood. An Israeli army spokesman announced two Israeli fighters intercepted four Egyptian jets in a noon flight northward over Israeli territory and shot down one—a British-made Vampire jet—on Israel's soil.

"The other three planes escaped," he said. "Our planes returned safely to base."

This announcement of air-to-air combat in the current Arab-Israeli crisis developed on the heels of claims by Israel of five new attacks by Arab commando raiders aground last night, in one of which three Israeli school children and a teacher were killed at prayer.

Angered Israeli security forces pressed a hunt for the raiders and public clamor for retaliations mounted.

Egypt, too, registered a complaint. A military spokesman in Egyptian-held Gaza said Israelis opened automatic fire today on an outpost in the Beit Hanoun area northeast of Gaza City and an Egyptian soldier was wounded. He said the outpost did not return the fire.

The newly established Egyptian Middle East News Agency reported last night that 300 Arab commandos had returned to their base in Gaza after staging a series of 50 raids. Official confirmation was lacking in Cairo, which has disclaimed responsibility for the attacks, but an Egyptian Embassy spokesman in Damascus said the group had headed back after making its retaliations for the Israeli shelling last Thursday of the Gaza Strip, in which 64 Arabs were killed and 102 wounded.

In Cairo, U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold held a three-hour meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, his fourth with Egyptian officials since arriving there Tuesday on his Middle East peace mission. Then another shift in his plans was reported.

An informed source said Hammarskjold will remain in Cairo until Saturday, but spend the rest of today and tomorrow in conferences with his own staff.

"The reason is a good one," the informant said.

There was no other elaboration. A Foreign Ministry spokesman charged the latest attacks spelled Egypt's answer to peace pleas by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. The U.N. official is conferring on the Middle East crisis with top Egyptian officials in Cairo.

"The answer has been a vicious and calculated renewal of aggression against Israel," the spokesman declared.

U. S. Ambassador Edward A. Lawson praised the Israeli people for showing "remarkable restraint during the present crisis. . . in the face of marauding gangs that march by night." Departing from his prepared text at a dedication ceremony at Bar Ilan University near Tel Aviv, Lawson expressed "profound admiration for the courage, patience and fortitude so clearly exhibited

Reds Hunt DEW Line Secrets In a Cloak and Dagger Game

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

RADAR SITE ABOVE THE ARCTIC CIRCLE—An epochal cloak and dagger game is now under way on history's largest, chilliest espionage playing field, the area inside the Arctic Circle.

No. 1 goal of the Russians is the detail of the Distant Early Warning radar line which the U.S. and Canada are constructing to warn of Red bomber attack.

No. 1 goal of U.S. and Canada is to keep the DEW line details a secret as long as possible.

Both sides claim successes. Hush-hush, secret operations, and rigid security regulations on communications, travel and movement of materials and people create an atmosphere of mystery and tension pervading the whole area.

The rule of the Arctic today is "you shouldn't know something if you don't have an official need to know it." It's drummed into every person up here including the Eskimos.

Scores of reports pass among the hundreds of DEW line workers scattered across the Arctic about mysterious interrogations of persons caught taking unauthorized pictures or asking suspicious questions.

Officials merely confirm that they are doing all they can to enforce security regulations. Each worker, from cook to scientist, is investigated prior to hiring. Officials admit that planting agents among DEW line workers is an obvious trick for the Reds to attempt.

A high turnover of workers who can't take the cold and loneliness is a disturbing security problem.

There are scores of reports of ex-DEW line workers who have been mysteriously quizzed about progress, locations and equipment. This could be U.S. or Canadian agents testing security.

More likely it's Red agents attempting to piece together the complex jig saw puzzle of the DEW line.

Stories that Red propaganda broadcasts by "Moscow Molly" tell DEW line workers of secret details of their work have been hotly denied. But the stories persist.

Most numerous are the unconfirmed reports of Red planes flying over DEW line sites. These are obviously Russian photographic missions.

It's no secret that the Russian Embassy in Ottawa is one of the largest single subscribers in Canada to newspapers, magazines and technical publications carrying information on the DEW line.

Canadian and U.S. officials have just spelled out for the first time exactly what cannot be written about the line. The rules were made for the first authorized, comprehensive tour of the line by newsmen. This report is from that tour.

Forbidden information includes locations of sites, detail of electronic equipment, numbers of sites and their type, other than to identify them as "gap fillers" or possessing rotating radar.

Among the most secret aspects of the DEW line is the system of relaying data back to the U.S. Continental Air Defense Command. Construction schedules and dates on which sections of the line will begin operating are also secret.

On the tour security rules were enforced to the extent that a Canadian security officer stood next to a newsreel man shooting from a plane 8,000 feet high. He was ready to halt the picture taking if a DEW site became visible. This was to prevent fixing it against a land horizon which the Reds might later identify by radar or pictures.

The movement of every person up here on business is rigidly controlled and checked. Fortunately the remoteness of the area and a small local population make this fairly easy.

Mail to workers is funneled through central points.

Pilots flying cargo to DEW line sites are given only the pieces of maps which show their destination and possible alternate fields. These map pieces are carefully checked in and out and kept in safes in the operations offices.

Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, top U.S. line officer, frankly admits that it's only a question of time before the Russians have a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the DEW line. But he wants to make it as tough as possible for them to get it.

And by the time they know all about it, he hopes it will already have served its purpose of deterring an enemy bomber attack across the Arctic.

Long Winded 'Phone Conversation Cut Off

TABIONA, Utah, (AP) — The Utah Basin Telephone Assn. has an answer to long-winded conversations on party telephones.

It has installed a device in seven Utah communities which warns party line users after four minutes: You have one minute to finish your conversation.

At the end of the minute the connection automatically is cut.

Scientists believe Europeans brought malaria and yellow fever to America.

Largest reptile in modern times is the leatherback, a marine turtle. Specimens have weighed almost 1500 pounds and measured eight feet in length.

Report of US Troops Going to Middle East Is Described Untrue

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army's European headquarters today described as "absolutely untrue" a report that the U.S. 2nd Armored Division has been ordered to the Middle East.

A spokesman added there are no plans to move any U.S. Army divisions stationed in Europe to the Middle East.

The Hartford, Conn., Times said yesterday it was "reliably reported" in Washington that the division had been ordered shifted from Europe "as rapidly as possible."

The 2nd armored is stationed in West Germany as part of the U.S. 7th Army.

"The only comment I have on this report is that it is absolutely untrue," a spokesman at the Army's European headquarters said.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said last night, "We have nothing to say" about the Hartford Times report.

Bandit Takes $650 From Western Union Near Fort Knox Vault

FORT KNOX, Ky. (AP) — Almost within the shadow of the big government gold vault, a lone bandit made off with $650.

The Western Union office robbery also occurred within 200 feet of the provost marshal's headquarters of the Army's huge armored center.

The bandit wrote a message and handed it to clerk Mrs. Shirley Thomas. It read: "Give me all you have or I'll shoot."

Mrs. Thomas said she tried to stall for time, but the man, with his hand in a pocket as if he had a gun, snapped: "Well, you can read, can't you? Make it snappy, no change."

Mrs. Thomas obeyed. The man fled.

Muskogee High School Student Wins Legion Oratorical Contest

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The American Legion's Region Eight Oratorical Contest winner is Felicia Boillot, a Muskogee, Okla., high school senior. She advanced with three other regional winners to the sectional at Des Moines, Iowa, tomorrow.

Miss Boillot defeated Kenneth Gennerson of Carthage, the Missouri champion; Joan Crawford of Merrell, the Iowa winner, and Sharon Nuttle of El Dorado, the Kansas titlist. Her subject concerned the development of the United States Constitution.

The national finals will be held next Monday in St. Louis.

11-Yr.-Old Boy Won't Be Sent Back Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An 11-year-old boy, who said he ran away from home because his father beat him, won't be sent back.

Juvenile Court Judge Louis H. Jull ruled Wilson R. McCormick's 305-pound father, "Big Jim" McCormick, failed during a hearing to indicate he wanted his son back. A further hearing was set for May 2 after Judge Jull placed the boy in temporary custody of an unidentified civic leader and his wife.

The boy's father was quoted by social workers last Sunday as saying he wanted the boy returned so he could send him to a reform school. But yesterday the father told Judge Jull "I made a false word when I said that I wanted him to come back that I was aiming to send him to reform school."

The boy was found in tattered clothing here last Wednesday. He didn't tell officials where he lived and his Upton, Ky., home wasn't revealed until his parents were traced through a newspaper story.

PTA Council Has Meeting, Elects Officers

The Sedalia PTA Council met in regular session April 4 at the First Baptist Church with Mrs. Howard Gwinn presiding. Mrs. Pryce Alexander from the Hubbard School gave a reading from the Upper Room as the devotion.

An election of officers was held with the following elected for the coming year: Mrs. Bob Kahrs, president; Mrs. Dolph Chatman, Kenney, second vice - president; Mrs. J. C. Frownfelter, third vice-president; Mrs. Oliver Thomas, secretary; Mrs. T. E. Owen, treasurer, and Mrs. A. L. Jones, historian.

Mrs. Gwinn announced that a School of Instruction will be held April 13 at the First Baptist Church. This will be an all-day meeting with registration starting at 9:30 a.m. A sack lunch will be at noon. All new officers and chairmen are urged to attend. Scrapbooks must be turned into Mrs. Gwinn by April 23, so they can be judged by the next meeting which will be a 1:00 o'clock luncheon at Smith-Cotton High School May 3.

The membership drive was won by Broadway School and they will be presented the attendance plaque at the next meeting. This is for having the most members present at council during the year. Whittier was second.

Mrs. Gwinn announced that on Feb. 17, Washington School presented her with a State Life Membership, which was the first the school had given. Life membership in the state or national congress is the greatest honor a unit can bestow upon an individual member. The membership, which is honorary, does not exempt a member from paying annual dues if he wishes to remain active in his unit. An attractive acorn guard, a membership card and a ten year subscription to the Missouri Parent Teacher, are given to each state life member. Mrs. George Chamberlin made the presentation.

The meeting adjourned for a social period in charge of Hubbard School.

Dresden 4-H Club Has Courtesy Lesson Talk

The Dresden 4-H Club met April 4, at the Community Hall. The president, Dorothy Richey, was in charge of the meeting. The group sang a song and repeated the 4-H Club Pledge.

A lesson on courtesy was given by Mrs. C. E. Ferguson. Bob Mason, assistant county agent, gave a talk on courtesy and 4-H Club Work. The meeting adjourned and the group played games.

Mrs. Les May and Mrs. Earl Manley, Dresden Homemakers, served the refreshments to 21 members and ten visitors.

The next meeting will be May 2.

Give Dinner Sunday For Indiana Family

DEW Line Revolution: Radar, Oranges Change Eskimo Life, Physical Aspects

ON THE FROZEN WASTE north of the Arctic Circle, a C-119 wings low over the tents of a DEW line construction camp. Camp crew is awaiting airdrop of bulldozer to begin clearing a runway.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
SECRET RADAR SITE Above the Arctic Circle — (NEA) — Raw seal meat is still the main food of the Eskimos living nearby as it was for their ancestors.

Yet Eskimo infants now get American baby food. And after a seal meal the family frequently eats Florida oranges for dessert.

This revolution in Eskimo life began about a year ago — on March 15, 1955, to be exact. A huge, C-124 Globemaster of the U.S. 18th Air Force was gingerly landed on a narrow strip of ice near here which had been cleared by manual labor. From its cavernous innards was driven a bulky, 24-ton D-8 bulldozer.

The small ground party, half-frozen by the 50-degree-below-zero temperature, cheered, with good reason. Successful delivery of the monster machine meant a permanent foot in the frozen door to the lonely Arctic.

The bulldozer would mean one strip could be kept snow-free and that a permanent gravel strip could be gashed from the tundra.

This was the start of the ambitious Canadian-American effort to establish a string of radar stations along the top of the North American continent to serve as a Distant Early Warning line against enemy bomber attack.

After that historic March 15, C-124s operating out of Edmonton and Churchill, Canada, were able to pour more tractors, construction equipment and supplies into western and central Canadian DEW line sites.

Today the aerial supply of the DEW line has become one of the most significant airlifts in history. In addition to boosting the defense of North America it is bringing new life and commerce to the whole Arctic, one of the most sparsely settled areas of the globe.

Supplemented by Canadian civilian airlines, the 18th Air Force was able to deliver 42,000 tons of precious cargo above the Arctic Circle during 1955.

During the first few months of this year 1,000 tons of delicate electronic equipment is being delivered by air as fast as it is produced by U.S. factories.

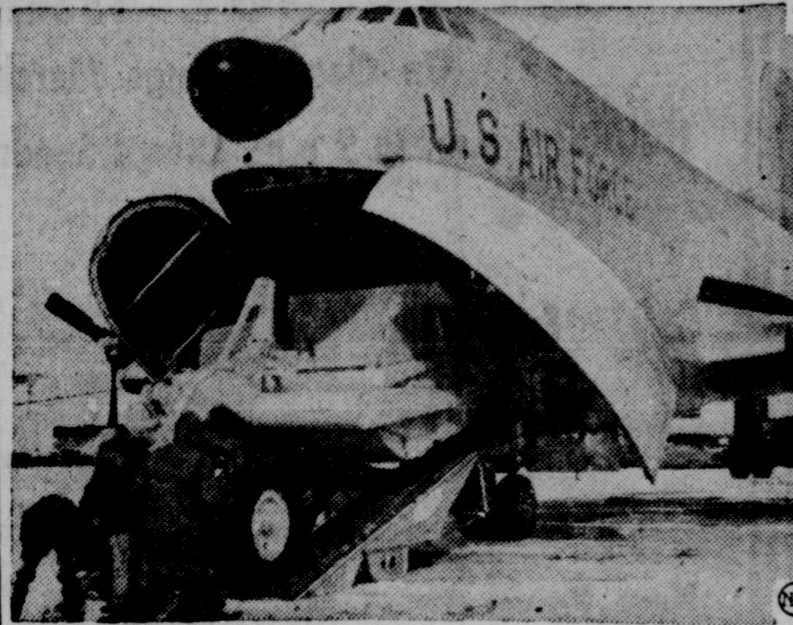

Flying this equipment, practically from factory to radar site, has meant a minimum of handling and loading. The result has been an astonishing record of delivery without damage.

In the process of setting up navigation aids, keeping air strips clear and building up stocks of aviation gas and spare parts, the DEW line airlift has made it possible for a huge amount of civilian air traffic to penetrate this north country.

It has also permitted the start of vast aerial explorations for oil in the central Arctic, with excellent results. It is reported that the frozen ground contains huge, untapped reservoirs of petroleum, are already planning to build refineries in the area.

If this results the huge, known deposits of nickel, copper, coal and uranium will be exploitable for North American markets.

According to tradition, the leaves of the willow tree did not drop until after the crucifixion of Christ. Legend states that the handle of the spear used to pierce Christ's side was made of the wood of the willow tree.

KEY TO DEW LINE AIRLIFT were big C-124 Globemasters like this one, which moved tractors and heavy equipment to far north.

Trautmans Visit Service Buddies

By Mrs. Douglas Crank

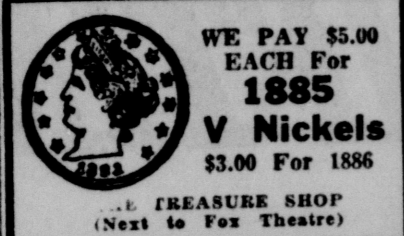

SWEET SPRINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Trautman and family left Friday for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where they visited a buddy of his from service, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Frazier and family. On their return home they stopped at Kahoka, Mo., where they visited another buddy, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Lewis.

Jimmy Williams, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Williams, entered St. Luke's Hospital in Kansas City Thursday evening, April 5, where he will undergo treatment for a kidney ailment.

Mrs. Sarah Hicks, 92, suffered a stroke at her home Thursday morning.

Henry Dierking had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Jack Krause, Higginsville; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Simpson and family, Raytown; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frerking and son, Kansas City; and Mr. and Mrs. Al Dierking and family, Sweet Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nelson and family had as a guest from Wednesday until Saturday his father, B. Nelson, Sedalia.

Both Parties Smile to Hide Bewilderment

CHICAGO (AP)—For the record, both Democrats and Republicans are beaming about the results of the Illinois primary election.

Just among themselves, there are some puzzled frowns. Just what did it mean? And who won?

These are the figures: President Eisenhower drew 753,267 votes from Republicans in nearly complete unofficial returns from Tuesday's preference test. Democrats gave Adlai Stevenson 703,291 votes.

Stevenson's tally was in 104 fewer precincts than were counted for Eisenhower. This is because a handful of the state's 9,511 precincts decline to give out unofficial counts. Some precincts gave unofficial returns for only one party.

On the Republican ballot there were 32,685 votes for Sen. William F. Knowland of California, who is backing Eisenhower for a second term, and 9,099 for Lar Daly of Chicago, a frequent office seeker.

Stevenson was unopposed on the Democratic ballot but there were scattered write-ins for Sen. Estes Kefauver and Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio. They won't be fully counted until the official canvass.

It appeared, though, that Kefauver's write-in total would be about 4 per cent of Stevenson's vote. Supporters of the Tennessee senator, who did not campaign in Illinois, had hoped for at least 10 per cent.

Thus the close race between Eisenhower and Stevenson drew most attention. It was strictly a popularity contest, and did not bind delegates to the national conventions.

The vote was light — some 1,600,000 voters, compared to almost 2,300,000 in the 1952 primary.

The state itself is considered Republican, although on occasion heavily democratic Cook County (Chicago) can swing it to the other column.

Downstate Illinois is normally Republican. But it is largely agricultural, too. The Democrats thought downstate voters were ready for a change because of farm price unrest.

8-Year-Old Child Finds Nitroglycerin

DAYTON, Ohio, (AP)—Eight-year-old Kathy Evans found a bottle containing a clear fluid in the front yard of her home in nearby Kettering Tuesday. She took it to her mother.

Mrs. Louise Evans, 34, casually glanced at the label and put the bottle on a kitchen shelf. Yesterday Mrs. Evans became worried and called police. Officers hastily summoned demolition experts from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and began an investigation. A base spokesman said the label correctly identified the contents—nitroglycerin.

Said Mrs. Evans, "good God!"

Negros Are Rehired

CHINO, Calif. (AP)—The aircraft company which fired nine Negro workers March 28 when they stopped work to take part in a prayer observance has hired them back, their union says.

The workers said they were fired when they returned to the Pacific Airmotive Corp. plant after praying for an hour in their cars, in observance of the Montgomery, Ala., Negro bus boycott. They were granted full seniority, vacation and sick leave with their reinstatement, said a spokesman for the International Assn. of Machinists yesterday.

Plain and Fancy Linens Are Still Tops With the Brides

Elegant nylon lace tablecloth is one of the modern "linens" that will never see an iron. After sudsing it clean, the slightly damp cloth is spread over the table, surface of which is protected by a plastic cloth underneath. Lace is smoothed with palms so that cloth dries smooth and even.

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A hope chest of plain and fancy household linens, lovingly selected and carefully tended, is a source of pride to today's bride even as it was to her grandmother. But the variety of its contents has changed considerably.

Modern synthetics take a liberal share of space and bring with them tasteful designs and minimum demands on care.

Yesterday's painstakingly crocheted cloth may be replaced by today's nylon lace cloth which can be washed and drip-dried with no need for blocking or ironing.

Nylon sheets, plastic place mats and blankets that never shrink or felt are some of the other products that have jumped from test tube to hope chest.

Fine, traditional linens, however, show no signs of going out of style. Taking conscientious care of them will enhance their beauty and add to your pride in them.

For example, it's advisable to wash new linens before you add them to your hope chest. Washing removes the factory finish, any soil from handling, labels or lettering.

It softens linens and help to prevent yellowing if they're to be stored. Terry towels need the laundering to regain their fluffiness. The pile tends to mat and settle when they're stacked on store shelves.

An expert in laundering tells me that "real" linen cloths should be washed separately from cottons as they are apt to pick up lint. Lace and openwork cloths are best hand-washed, although some, if they're not too fragile, could be machine washed if encased in a mesh bag to protect against snags and "roping."

The best place to dry fine linens is in the sun. They should be folded over the line. Pinning to the line may cause them to dry out of shape.

Another word of caution from the experts: very hot, dry air is damaging to linens. If linen is machine-dried, the temperature setting should be as close to room temperature as possible.

Proper ironing of fine linens is at least as important as careful washing in preserving their beauty. If you're not sure how to proceed, ask the advice of the best housekeeper you know. Very often, in my experience, this is an older woman who has learned from years of practice.

Points, gleaned from one such source, include pressing linen on the wrong side only, to insure a lovely soft dull sheen. Cover the ironing board with a piece of old linen to prevent a linen cloth from picking up lint from the board cover.

Monogrammed damask or embroidered organdies should be ironed face down on thick padding to bring up the patterns. A foam rubber cover on the board is especially good for this, but two or three terry towels will do almost as well.

To keep tablecloths free of creases, try rolling them on cardboard cylinders instead of folding for storage. Or fold the cloth light-

Piano Teacher Held On Charges of Theft From Pupils' Homes

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Police have booked Miss Thelma Politte, 49-year-old piano teacher, on suspicion of burglarizing her pupils' homes.

Officers said she has a penchant for opening locks and that her victims included Edwin Pauley, oil millionaire and politician.

Officers said they found about $10,000 worth of loot in Miss Politte's home in Los Angeles, including a $2,500 mink coat they said was taken from the Pauley home last summer.

Det. Lt. R. W. Borders said Miss Politte was arrested when she sought to dispose of a coat and a silver set.

Highest Tides In Two Decades Cause Flood

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The highest tides in two decades churned up a quickie flood in the Hampton Roads coastal area last night, disrupting communications and transportation and temporarily isolating two communities.

The waters lapped into business sections of Norfolk and Newport News, forced suspension of ferry service linking the two cities and caused the closing of a main bridge across the James River.

The floods struck hardest at the York County community of Poquoson on Chesapeake Bay and the Norfolk-side village of Willoughby. Each was isolated for a while and Army amphibious vehicles were called in to re-establish connections.

The tides were spawned by an Atlantic storm that brought winds up to 70 miles an hour. The tides reached a peak of four to five feet above normal before midnight and began receding.

The weather bureau said the worst of the northeaster was over, but a new threat was posed by high tides due today. The bureau said they were expected to be less than two feet above normal.

Despite a weather bureau forecast the storm would veer out to sea, Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut ordered a standby alert in the event of heavy rains.

A late forecast indicated chances the storm would hit Connecticut has lessened, but tides were expected to run two to three feet above normal.

Deputy Sheriff Rotary Speaker Finds Summons Is No Joke

SEMINOLE, Okla. (AP)—"I thought it was some kind of a joke," said W. P. Atkinson, mid-west city builder and developer, after a deputy sheriff served him with a summons yesterday.

Atkinson had just stood up to address a meeting of the Seminole Rotary Club when the deputy appeared.

It wasn't any joke. It was a le-

Playwright Is Fined For Drunk Driving

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Playwright Clifford Odets has paid a $200 fine for drunk driving and is under court order not to drive his car except for business for 90 days.

Municipal Judge Charles J. Griffin also ordered Odets to abstain from liquor for a year. He was arrested Feb. 27 after his car struck another here.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, "JUST FACE LIFTING"?

EVERY NOW AND THEN, we run across someone who seems to think that 1956 cars do not offer anything really new — just a little face lifting from the year before.

We won't try to speak for the automobile industry. But we certainly can speak for Buick.

And let us announce in no uncertain terms—it's the newest thing on wheels.

The Styling is New

Sure, it looks like a Buick. But it has a new V-prowed grille that says 1956 and no mistake. The hood's new—the fender ports are new—the sweepers are new—and it all adds up to a new sweep-ahead look that ends in a sassy new slant to the rear contours. But that, friends, is only the beginning.

The 1956 Dynaflo* is New

It introduces what the engineers call "double regeneration"—which means a double-action take-off. It gives you new, split-second response in the first inch of pedal travel—plus the "switch the pitch" at full acceleration, which no one else has yet approached.

The Ride is New

To coil springs on all four wheels, a brawny X-braced frame, and torque-tube drive, the engineers have added deep-oil shock absorbers to give new softness, new buoyancy, new comfort, and a brand-new "sense of direction" handling response.

The Power is New

All 1956 Buicks have new and mighty 322-cubic-inch V8's—with record highs in power and compression—with unique new double "Y" manifolding to step up efficiency —with new carburetor "deicing"—and a host of other new features to make owning a Buick pure pleasure.

The Thrill is New

And the surest way for you to find out how right we are, is to sample a 1956 Buick yourself.

As we said before, this is the best Buick yet — by a wide measure — and when you learn the prices we're quoting, you'll know why this Buick is one of the three best sellers in today's market.

It takes a lot more than face lifting to produce such a winner as this.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Amateur Can Pour Concrete, But He Will Need Assistance

Composite drawing of concrete driveway construction shows all steps at once. In reality, each step is completed before the next is begun.

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Amateurs have stayed away from concrete work in droves, apparently for two reasons: (1) because it is work, and (2) because final surface finishing demands a degree of skill.

Yet there is reason to believe that practically anyone with a little small-scale practice under his belt could build a driveway, patio or other ambitious concrete project. He'll need help, though, and plenty of it.

Concrete should be poured, tamped and "struck-off" within an hour of arrival at the job site. It should be given its final finish within an hour or so. In one community neighbors banded together and built each other's driveways. It's a good idea if you can work it.

Properly constructed, a concrete driveway will outlast a house and save many times its cost in long-term service. Steel reinforcement, called welded wire fabric, is important to driveway longevity. Increasing slab strength as much as 30 per cent, it deters cracking.

However, wire reinforcement and the finest concrete mix available won't make up for an unstable foundation for your drive. Soil under the concrete should furnish equal, firm support to all parts of the slab.

Well-drained soil should be thoroughly compacted after sod, vegetable matter, soft spots and bumps have been removed and depressions filled in. If soil is poorly drained, dig it out and replace it with about six inches of gravel, tamped to form a firm, level foundation.

Forms, or molds, for driveways may be made up of 2x4- or 2x6-inch boards set on edge. Brace the form boards with stakes driven deep into the ground about a foot apart. Top edges of the form should be level and at the desired height of the finished driveway surface.

To be effective, welded wire reinforcement must be placed at the midthickness of a five- or six-inch-thick slab. Perhaps the easiest way of doing this is to pour concrete half thickness, level or strike it off, then position the wire fabric. Immediately pour the remainder of the concrete.

Reinforcement is usually placed lengthwise of a slab. Twelve-foot driveways call for two lengths from a six-foot-wide roll of 6x6-6-6 fabric, overlapped six inches. This allows three-inch clearance between sides of forms and edges of the reinforcement.

Driveways are often poured in alternate sections. That is, pour a section, skip one, and pour another. When these have hardened enough to hold their shape, remove boards forming the joints and pour concrete in the empty sections.

After concrete has been poured up to the level of the forms, work a 2x4 or other plank back and forth over the tops of the forms to strike off the mix while it is still plastic. A convex strike board will give a crown to the drive for drainage.

About an hour later the concrete will begin to set and then can be smoothed with a wooden trowel, or float. If the float digs in, the concrete is still too plastic and should be left to harden a little longer. After floating, texture the surface by drawing a straw broom lightly and straight across the concrete.

Wet down the finished job and cover with canvas, burlap, straw or building paper and keep it wet for a week. Concrete gains strength during the wet-down curing process.

Ike Is Eager For Golf Date With His Son

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower looked forward today to a golf date with his son — and to a decision on whether to sign or veto a farm bill he doesn't like. Congress dealt the President one of his worst legislative defeats in completing action on the farm measure last night.

Overriding vigorous administration objections to the election year measure, the Senate sent it to Eisenhower's desk by a vote of 50 to 35 after the House had approved the bill 237 to 181.

The President, here for a week's working vacation which started Monday, is against a major provision which would scrap the administration's flexible farm price support program in favor of a return to high, rigid supports for basic farm commodities.

James C. Hagerty, White House Press Secretary, told newsmen Eisenhower "still does not believe the bill meets the test of a good bill." But Hagerty declined to speculate on whether the President might veto the measure.

The press secretary did say he thinks Eisenhower will wait until he returns to Washington next week before announcing his decision.

The President's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, is scheduled to arrive here during the day for a weekend of relaxation with the chief executive. Young Eisenhower is on leave from his post at Ft. Belvoir, near Washington.

The President kept in close touch with White House aides by telephone while the Senate and House were voting on the farm bill. He also checked by phone with Secretary of State Dulles again yesterday on the critical situation in the Middle East.

Eisenhower and Dulles conferred, too, regarding the major foreign policy address which the President will make in Washington April 21 at the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Hagerty told reporters that speech will deal in part with the Middle-East and U.S. efforts to halt Israeli-Arab strife in that area.

Penny Home to Stay After Walking 1,250 Miles to Reach Haven

ASHERVILLE, Kan. (AP)—Penny, a part wirehaired and chow dog, is home to stay after walking an estimated 1,250 miles to reach her haven.

Sometime ago, Dr. and Mrs. Jack L. Neville gave Penny to a friend, the Rev. E. T. Vestal of Yuma, Ariz. While vacationing in Yuma last September, they were told Penny had run away.

The Nevilles spent a good deal of time driving around in search of the dog, then returned home. They learned later that Penny had showed up at their former home in Yuma in January and that the present occupants gave her to a policeman in Somerton, Ariz., 14 miles south of Yuma.

A few days ago, Dr. Neville was playing in his yard with Snowball the family's Alaskan Husky, when Penny, footsore and weary, made her way toward them.

Penny won't be separated from the Nevilles again.

Swearngen, Edsel Snapp, Druward Edwards and Claude Rayl.

Burial will be in the Dresden Cemetery.

Martin Bodies to Fulton

The bodies of Mrs. Ruby D. Martin, 44, Mexico, and of her son, Robert Lee Martin, 17, were taken from the Ewing Funeral Home Thursday afternoon to Fulton to the Maupin Funeral Home where funeral services were tentatively set for Friday.

Mother and son lost their lives early Thursday morning in a collision on West Highway 50 at Mud-dy Hill, four miles west of Sedalia, when a car driven by Second Lt. James Norwalk, Whiteman Air Force Base, met their car head-on as the Norwalk car was starting to pass a Schien Truck Lines tractor-trailer.

Thomas R. Cranmer Services
Funeral services for Thomas R. Cranmer, Kansas City, formerly of Ottaville, were held at two p. m. Thursday at the Ottaville Methodist Church with the Rev. L. M. Starkey Jr., pastor of the Swope Park Methodist Church, Kansas City, officiating. Masonic graveside services were at the IOOF Cemetery, Ottaville. Oliver Stahl was in charge.

Pallbearers, all master Masons of the lodge at Ottaville, were J. H. Gunn, George M. Burnett, Earl Rotton, John Sanders, H. R. Kuhn and Paul Sanders.

At the church services vocal soloists were Mrs. Frank Yeager and the Rev. Farrie L. Cole Jr. with Mrs. Walter E. Castle accompanist.

Arthur A. Rosenhan Services
Funeral rites for Arthur A. Rosenhan, retired Missouri Pacific conductor, who died at Bothwell Hospital Wednesday morning, will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the Gillespie Funeral Home, the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, to officiate.

Mrs. Charles Farley will sing "The Old Rugged Cross," with Mrs. Clyde Williams at the organ. Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Sorosis Donates $25 To Student Fund
A sum of $25 has been donated by Sorosis to the AAUW toward the fund to bring American Field students to Sedalia, according to Miss Mattie Montgomery, chairman of the scholarship fund of Sorosis. This money is from interest on the scholarship fund.

The Osage Bowmen Club is sponsoring the showing of a Conservation Commission sports picture at the courthouse in the Assembly Room at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Chester Vermoos, Conservation Commission agent, will show the picture and discuss wildlife in Missouri with the visitors. He explained the picture is of interest to the entire family on Missouri's wildlife and sports resources.

It will be equally interesting to the gun hunters and the archers of this area.

No admission charge will be made and is strictly an educational meeting for Sedalia and Pettis Counties.

Confirms Nomination Of Sudan Ambassador

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A closer search of all prisoners appearing in court was ordered today after a man was shot to death in a gun duel with officers in the Municipal Courts Building yesterday.

Sheriff Martin L. Tozer said all lockup cells in the courts building are inspected every morning, but there are places in them where a gun might be overlooked.

Tozer said he would ask for closer scrutiny of everyone entering the building.

Richard A. Martin, a former convict, was being taken from a holdover cell in the rear of a courtroom when he broke away from two deputy sheriffs.

Martin had just been sentenced to a year and a day for theft from a grocery store. He was fatally wounded in an exchange of gunfire with officers as he tried to escape.

Sheriff Tozer said he was convinced that Martin, 25, obtained the pistol in the cell, where it had been "planted" in advance.

A-1c George Harvey, Whiteman AFB, charged with driving 70 miles per hour in a 40 mile zone, failed to appear in court and his cash bond of $30 was ordered forfeited.

Police Reports

A 1948 Oldsmobile which was parked at 32nd and Limit in a hazardous location was ordered towed in by the police at 12:25 a. m. Tuesday. Several cars turning off of Highway 65 nearly struck the car during the time it had been left parked there.

The Ward Memorial Baptist Church, Pettis and Lamine, was broken into by thieves sometime Wednesday night. Entrance was gained by forcing the door on the west side of the building. The intruder tried to pry open the office door and broke open a cabinet. Nothing was found to be missing.

Wanda Mosier, 412 South Quincy, reported the loss of her red plastic billfold with some change and important papers in it.

A small brown shepherd dog named "Teddy" was reported missing from the Wilson Trailer Courts.

Jack Dicus, 520 South Barrett, reported to the police that while his car was parked at the Library someone threw mud on it. Police investigated.

Clarence Weathers, 501 East 28th reported to the police someone tried to pry the left door glass on his pickup truck while parked in the 1300 block on East Ninth. The glass was broken but nothing was missing from the truck.

Two cars were damaged in a collision about 7:35 p. m. Wednesday at 16th and Grand.

Involved were a 1948 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Robert Greiser, 1222 East Sixth who was going north on Grand, and a 1953 Plymouth sedan driven by George Lessley, Booneville, who was traveling north on Grand.

Damage was to the front bumper of the Oldsmobile and the trunk lid and rear bumper of the Plymouth.

Magistrate Court

Dale Rowley was fined $25 and costs Tuesday on charges of driving on wrong side of road.

Marvin Burton was fined $25 and costs Tuesday on charges of passing where view was obstructed.

Clarence Lee Benton was fined $25 and costs Tuesday on charges of driving on wrong side of road.

2 Masked Men Shoot Down Greek Cypriot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two masked men—one reportedly dressed in priest's clothing—shot to death a Greek Cypriot today in the northern Cyprus village of Akanthou.

Police could not say whether the slaying had political motivation.

In the Paphos district, on the opposite corner of the island, two bombs were thrown at a security forces vehicle but caused neither damage nor casualties.

Scout Leaders to Meet At Blackwater School

A Boy Scout Leaders training session will be held at Blackwater School at 7:30 tonight.

CAP Squadron Meets

Sedalia Squadron, CAP, meets in regular session Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. in National Guard Armory. Col. Milo Barnhardt, Independence, special guest. Cadets wear uniforms for inspection.

Proposes US Stop Testing Huge Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray proposed today the United States stop testing huge hydrogen bombs and set an "upper limit" on both the size and the number of such weapons it will stockpile.

He said he based his suggestions on both "moral principles and military usefulness."

Murray, testifying before a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee, said this country should lead the way to "rational disarmament" by acting without waiting for the establishment of an international control agency.

He coupled his proposal that "tests of multimegaton thermonuclear weapons be stopped" with a comment that the ones this country now has may be "already too large."

As far as is publicly known, an end to tests on "multimegaton" weapons would cut off all hydrogen bomb trials.

A megaton is an atomic weapon's word for energy equivalent to a million tons of TNT. All reports of hydrogen — thermonuclear — explosions have indicated releases far above that level.

The committee, studying all aspects of disarmament proposals, was told that there "is no upper limit to the size of bombs that can be made" and "our moral tradition does not permit us to use nuclear weapons whose effect is mass destruction on an indiscriminate scale."

State Wide Price War Predicted By Gas Dealers

Gasoline price cutting apparently is starting throughout Missouri with the announcement of the major companies making a reduction in price on Ethyl and regular gasoline in Sedalia. The cuts were made to meet the price cutting of independent dealers.

Gasoline prices in Sedalia now are 26.9 for Ethyl and 25.9 for regular at major companies while independents are 25.9 and 23.9.

A gasoline war has been in existence in Booneville for more than a year where the prices are considerably lower than those here in Sedalia.

Major companies at Kennett, in southeast Missouri, announced a reduction in prices where independent dealers there started the price cutting a week ago.

Cuts at Kennett were six cents a gallon or slashed down to 20.9 from 26.9 for regular gasoline and ethyl gasoline was cut to 23.9 from 29.9.

Gasoline dealers in the area predict a state wide price war may be in the offing.

Home Agent in Training
Bernice Stamm, home agent in training, is working with the extension staff in Pettis County. Her training period will be approximately ten weeks before she assumes her duties as county home agent in Benton County.

An agent in training works with an organized plan of observation and participation under the guidance of experienced county extension workers. During this period of internship a trainee observes and learns the objectives and policies of the extension service, methods and techniques of presented subject matter and fits into the activities of the county program of work.

In addition to the other activities, Mrs. Stamm has accompanied the home agent to several extension club meetings. She will visit the Georgetown Extension Club Wednesday, April 18, and present the lesson "Wardrobe Planning."

Vitamin C in Powder Form
Though drying is the oldest method of preserving food, fruit juices were never dried successfully until scientists developed orange juice powder. Powdered juices are bulkier than concentrated juices but they have several advantages. They weigh less, keep better at high temperatures
because their extremely low moisture content and thus don't need refrigeration. Even though the cost of processing is higher than that of concentrating, it may be offset by savings in transportation and storage.

A tomato powder that can easily be made into tomato juice of fine full flavor and bright color simply by mixing with water is the newest of the juice powders to be developed by scientists. The powder may be used in recipes calling for tomato paste or puree, such as tomato sauce or tomato aspic.

Like the powdered orange juice and grapefruit juice, tomato powder is "puff dried"—that is, after homogenizing and concentrating, it is dried in a vacuum chamber which makes it puff up like a sponge. Then it is pulverized into fine, flaky powder and sealed in cans which contain a drying substance.

The research on this new powder was prompted by the need for the armed forces for a tomato product that would take little storage or shipping space, would keep in different climates with refrigeration and would be easy to use for tomato juice or tomato-flavored dishes. The produce is not yet on the market but is promising for both home and institutional use.

A plant already is being built in Florida to produce orange juice and grapefruit juice powder, and research is under way on juice powders from prunes, apples and pineapple. Lemonade powder is one of the fruit powders to be developed by U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists. Like the orange juice and tomato juice powders, the lemonade powder is quick and easy to use. It dissolves instantly in cold water to make lemonade equal in flavor and nutritive value to that prepared from freshly squeezed lemons.
The powder is convenient to ship or store and needs no refrigeration.

Keeping the powder dry is so important for holding its fresh quality during extended storage that the scientists not only package it in a moisture-proof container, but also use a moisture-absorbing substance—in a small envelope in the container. This reduces the moisture in the powder to one per cent or less.

Velva Fruit—A Good

Vitamin C Food

A smooth-as-velvet frozen dessert has been perfected for home as well as commercial freezing.
Blackberries, strawberries, cantalupe, peaches, or almost any kind of fresh, fragrant, fully-ripe and flavorful fruit may be used for Velva Fruit. Fully ripe fruit too soft for canning is ideal, because it has full flavor and color.
To make Velva Fruit, mash the washed, pitted, peeled fruit. Press through a sieve to make a puree.
To 3 cups fruit puree, add from 3/4 to 1 cup sugar—depending on sweetness of fruit, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. For a low acid fruit like peaches, add 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Soften 1 tablespoon gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water and then dissolve by heating over boiling water. Add this puree slowly to the melted gelatin, stirring continuously. Freeze, using a mixture of 8 parts ice to 1 part salt or in the refrigerator. Velva
Fruit may be served soft-frozen, or after hardening several hours,
it may be stored in a food freezer
two or more months.

Part-Time Bartender
Has a 'Blue Day'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—William
Taliaferro, part-time bartender, probably felt like saying boo to blue yesterday.

Taliaferro said a blue-eyed bandit wearing a blue scarf walked into Schmitt's tavern, poked a blue-stained revolver in his face and ordered him to put two pints of whisky and the contents of the cash register in a paper bag.

The man clutched the whisky and $28 under a blue suede jacket and fled.

The name Taliaferro means blue
-steel knife in Italian.

Zernial Seems Better Seer Than Hitter

TULSA, Okla., (AP)—Big Gus Zernial of the Kansas City Athletics proved himself more of a seer than a home run hitter yesterday.

The A's left fielder, who aspires to hit 40 home runs this year, was discussing the Pittsburgh Pirates pitching staff with other ball players at breakfast. Zernial ventured the opinion Pittsburgh's pitching looked like championship stuff.

"That (Ronnie) Kline really has better stuff than Bob Friend," chipped in Joe Demaestri, the A's shortstop. "Don't you think so Gus?"

"Yeah," agreed Zernial, "but Friend is harder to hit. You can follow Friend's ball better than Kline's but it's harder to hit. It is one of those funny things. You would rather bat against Friend than Kline but you still don't hit him as well."

Yesterday, afternoon Friend, who led the National League in earned run averages last year, faced the Athletics. He went nine innings against the A's, gave up only seven hits and won his second full-length exhibition start against Kansas City.

In the first inning Zernial came up with one run in and Enos Slaughter on second with a double Gus struck out.

In the third Gus was up again with Slaughter on first with a single. Gus whiffed again.

In the fifth Enos was on again, beating out a single to short. Up came Gus — and fanned.

In the eighth Friend finally got Slaughter out on a grounder. Zernial came up for the fourth time. He swung mightily and missed a third strike.

The four whiffs were the only ones Friend got.

Cardinals May Have Cleanup Slugger To Follow Musial

DENVER, Colo., (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals may have found a righthanded cleanup slugger to follow Stan Musial. They've been looking for one ever since Enos Slaughter and then Ray Jablonski were traded away.

The new prospect is Hank Sauer, one-time Chicago White Sox home run hitter. Musial and Sauer smacked back-to-back homers in the sixth inning yesterday to lift the Redbirds, hottest spring training team in the majors, past the Chicago Cubs, 5-3.

St. Louis trailed 3-0 going into the last of the fifth inning when Alex Grammas doubled and Wally Moon clubbed a two-run homer off Jack Harshman.

Fred Hutchinson's club now leads the White Sox 5-1 in their series and has won 19 of 28 spring games.

Tom Poholsky, William Schmidt and Jackie Collum pitched the victory. Schmidt, least effective of the team's big four to date, shut-out Chicago the middle three innings and little Collum added three more runless innings.

Premier Bulganin Says Aim of Britain Trip Is to Discuss Trade

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin says the trip he and Communist party boss Khrushchev are making to Britain is not an attempt to drive a wedge between Britain and the United States.

Bulganin said in an interview that the chief aim of their 10-day visit, which begins Wednesday, is to discuss increased trade and broader cooperation.

The premier's comments were made in an interview with Irving R. Levine, Moscow correspondent of the National Broadcasting Co. and the London Times.

The countess, the former Philadelphia heiress Priscilla Dickerson, reportedly is a longtime friend of Daniel's.

Braves Bench Bruton

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., (AP)—Centerfielder Bill Bruton, with only five hits in 45 trips for a .111 average, has been benched by the Milwaukee Braves.

Dick Sisler, whose home run for the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the 1950 pennant on the last day of the National League campaign, is back playing first base with San Diego in the Pacific Coast League.

Referee Says He Nearly Set Fight Finish

DETROIT (AP)—Referee Lou Handler, a veteran Detroit ring official, said today he was afraid for a moment that he had helped set up a punch that might have cost Chuck Spieser his fight with Joe Rowan here last night.

As it was Spieser won handily, chopping away at Rowan's left eye until it closed completely in the fifth round. Dr. Joseph Cahalan stopped it between rounds but under Michigan rules it was classed as a sixth round technical knockout.

"He (Rowan) hurt me just that once," Spieser admitted, "back in the second round. We'd been in close and I thought the ref was going to break us."

"I dropped my hands and wham! He caught me with a left hook and then pushed me into the ropes."

Handler said he actually shouted to the fighters "fight out of it." "But the minute I said it and saw Spieser drop his hands I knew he thought I was going to say 'break,' I felt awful."

Rowan followed the sharp punch by pushing Spieser into the ropes. It was no knockdown and the Detroit came back fast to win the round on every scorecard. In fact, he won every round on every official scorecard and the referee had him ahead by 10 points under Michigan's "10-must" scoring system when the fight ended.

Rowan, from Philadelphia, Pa., weighed 180 1/2, a loss for him of almost 16 pounds in two weeks.

Spieser, fourth ranking challenger among the light heavies, scaled 173 1/2 for the televised (ABC) bout. The surprisingly good crowd paid a gross of $7,839.40.

Athletics to Receive Two-City Welcome

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics baseball team will receive a two-city welcome Friday on its return from spring training.

Dignitaries of both Kansas City and Kansas City, Kas., will greet the squad at Fairfax Airport.

Following the official greeting team members will drive in open cars through the business sections of both cities.

The A's will play the St. Louis Cardinals in exhibition games here Saturday and Sunday and open their American League schedule next Tuesday in Detroit.

They wind up their 15-game exhibition series with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Fort Smith, Ark., today.

Bunn Hearn is in his 27th season as baseball coach at North Carolina.

There Are Signs This Spring Hurlers Are Back From Exile

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

After a hitters' year in which there were only two 20-game winners among major league pitchers in 1955, there are signs this spring that the hurlers are back from exile.

Detroit and Milwaukee spotlighted the evidence as six pitchers breezed through 14 scoreless innings before the managers called it quits at Terre Haute, Ind., yesterday. There were 16 hits—all singles—but nary a runner got past second base.

Elsewhere, Johnny Antonelli, bidding to return to the 20-wins group after a 14-16 disappointment in '55, struck out eight while scattering five hits and walking three in his seven innings as the New York Giants whacked the Cleveland Indians 5-1. Bob Lennon and Gail Harris made homers off Earl Wynn and Mike Garcia.

Baltimore's Orioles beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4, shutting out the Bruins until the ninth when Monte Irvin opened with a homer and Jim King came through with a three-run clout. Jim Wilson, the Birds' starter and winner, and Dave Pope homered off loser Russ Meyer.

The St. Louis Cardinals provided the big hitting of the day with Wally Moon, Stan Musial and Hank Sauer tagging Jack Harshman for homers to overhaul three-run Chicago lead and beat the White Sox 5-3.

Dale Long drove in three runs, two on a homer off Art Ditmar, as Pittsburgh beat Kansas City 5-3. Bob Friend gave the A's a scattered seven hits and struck out Gus Zernial four times.

The New York Yankees and Cincinnati hooked up in a shabby, eight-error scuffle won by the Redlegs 7-5 with the benefit of five unearned runs on five Yank errors—three by rookie shortstop Jerry Lumpe. Bill Skowron and Al Silvera homered for New York.

The victim was Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, the wife of William W. Pugh, 34, a printing company executive. He found the body when he came home from his office.

If police had any clues to the slayer they were keeping a tight silence. Police Chief Stanley F. Schrotel had a police guard at the ranch house home during the night to protect any possible evidence.

Dr. Herbert P. Lyle, Hamilton County coroner, said details of an autopsy would be withheld because they might give an idea of the course of the investigation.

Coroner Lyle said, however, there was no immediate indication of attempted rape. Police also said the only blood found was in the doorway area.

Snead Starts 'Tonic' Game At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Sam Snead's annual spring golfing tonic, the $12,500 Greater Greensboro Open tournament, opened today with the White Sulphur Spring, W. Va., pro the "people's choice."

Sam won the inaugural in 1933 and came back to win the event for the fifth time last spring. Regardless of how he fared during the winter, Sam's game suddenly begins to click when he hits Greensboro.

In the last seven years he never has finished worse than third.

Sam played only a few winter tournaments before finishing in a tie for fourth in the Masters Sunday. He hustled here from Augusta to begin practice over the par 71 Starmount course, a 6,723 yarder.

Professional golf's youth movement, which made major advances during the winter tour, was represented by Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.; Mike Fetchick of Mahopac, N. Y.; Gardner Dickinson of Panama City, Fla., and Mike Souhak of Grossinger, N. Y., all tournament winners in the last month.

Other major money winners this year who are in the field of 150 are Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio; Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.; Art Wall of Honesdale, Pa., who was a stroke here last year; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla.; George Bayer, Cincinnati, and Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y., the 1954 Greensboro winner.

The Starmount course opens with four rugged holes, which Snead describes as "among the meanest anywhere."

The sluggers like Snead and Bayer get their chance on the 600-yard seventh hole, the first par five on the narrow, well-trapped layout.

NAA's Committee On Violations Will Take Up Several Cases

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association's committee on infractions will open a two-day meeting here tomorrow to consider several pending cases of violation of the NCAA bylaws.

Walter Byers, executive-director of the NCAA, said the committee, a fact-finding group of the association, also will work on its report to be submitted to the NCAA council late this spring.

All cases handled by the 4-man infractions committee are confidential until they are reported to and announced by the 18-man council.

The committee on infractions is composed of Frank N. Gardner, Drake University; George H. Young, University of Wisconsin; A. D. Kirwan, University of Kentucky, chairman; and Byers, a non-voting member. A. J. Bergstrom, assistant to Byers, also will attend the meeting.

Margaret and Fiance Will Take Honeymoon In Bahama Islands

NEW YORK (AP)—Clifton Daniel, Margaret Truman's fiance, says they will honeymoon in Nassau, the Bahamas, after their April 21 wedding at the Independence, Mo., home of former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman.

Daniel, assistant to the foreign news editor of the New York Times, said yesterday the Nassau home of Count and Countess Guy de la Fregoniere had been offered to them for their honeymoon.

Eddie Arcaro Has Pleasant Racing Problem to Solve

NEW YORK—Eddie Arcaro is in a quandary. But it is a pleasant problem that confronts the nation's best known jockey.

He must decide sometime before May 5 whether to ride Nashua, America's glamor horse, in the $50,000 added Grey Lag Handicap at Jamaica or head Man in the $125,000 Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Both will be run in the same day.

A victory aboard Nashua would give him the distinction of being astride the world's leading money winning horse on the day he passed Citation's earnings of $1,085,760. A triumph with C. V. Whitney's Head Man would be Eddie's sixth Kentucky Derby success. No other jockey has more than three

ABC-TV Takes Long Stride In Programs

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC-TV, the youngest of the three major networks, is taking a long forward stride in programming next season.

Three important themes will be brought to the home screen by its News and Special Events Department: alcoholism, divorce and the human element in the scientific complexity of our national defense program. Both film and live cameras will be combined in the format of these three big programs designed by John Daly. They are tentatively titled "Let's Cry Today," "Divided We Fall" and "Operation Survival." Dates have not yet been set for their showings.

"Omnibus," which this viewer considers the most consistently intelligent and interesting regular program on television, is switching from CBS to ABC next October. A basic reason is that ABC offered prime Sunday evening time. There has been no official announcement on the hour, but you can bet on 9:30 to 11 p.m., Eastern time.

"Omnibus" at such an hour will revive an evening that has become dull and stereotyped on the home screen. Except for occasional good dramas there hasn't been much in the way of stimulating TV fare on the one evening of the week when most families are at home.

In step with this increase in live programming, ABC-TV will present six Theatre Guild productions from dramatic and musical comedy theater beginning in January. Among the shows planned are "The General's Other Son," "The Honey," "Take A Giant Step," "By Jupiter" and "Playboy of the Western World."

In addition the Metropolitan Opera will produce two operas with the Met's regular stars and artists under the direction of Rudolf Bing. On Dec. 23 the New York City Ballet will present "The Nutcracker" with top stars under

Star Refuses $4 Million Of Income

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 12 (AP)—The screen's least active young star, Montgomery Clift, is back in Hollywood making a movie. Clift, still pencil-slim at 35, has returned to town for MGM's Civil War epic, "Raintree County." He is not one to push his acting career. In his nine years in films this is only his ninth movie.

His last one here was the great direction of George Ballanchine.

A dozen new weekly series are in the works for ABC-TV next season, ten on film and two live. Of top interest, and marking a new development for the network, will be a 90-minute weekly drama series on film called "Command Performance." Produced by John Gibbs, the dramas will be based on the works of writers of the caliber of Somerset Maugham, John Dos Passos and John O'Hara.

"From Here to Eternity." Many actors would have followed up such a classic with other films. Not Clift. He absented himself from Hollywood for two years.

His only film activity was an Italian-made picture with Jennifer Jones. It's not because Clift hasn't had offers. He and Marlon Brando are the most-sought of the young actors. Clift's agent estimates that the actor has turned down four million dollars' worth of salary since his last film.

How come? I pinned him down on Lot No. 3 at MGM, where the big Western street had been made over for a pre-Civil War Fourth of July celebration.

"I just haven't found the stories I want to do," he explained. "When I don't find anything I'm excited about doing, I don't work." "Now it looks as if I'm going to be very busy. After this one, I'll probably do 'The Devil's Disciple' with Laurence Olivier and Burt Lancaster. There are two or three others I may do right afterward."

But that doesn't mean that he'll move here. His home is still New York, though it is merely a base of operations. During his two-year absence, he did a great deal of traveling, especially in Europe. Fortunately for him, he has invested his money wisely, so he can afford to take long vacations.

Clift gets solid female support in "Raintree County" from Elizabeth Taylor, his co-star in "A Place in the Sun," and Eva Marie Saint. Miss Taylor, with as fetching a drawl as you've ever heard, represents the South, and Miss Saint the North.

The film takes a northern point of view, however, which is unusual in Civil War epics. Director Edward Dmytryk explained that the story concerns the impact of the war on an Indiana town.

The movie is MGM's greatest domestic effort, with an expected bill of $5,500,000. (The studio's Italian-made "Quo Vadis" ran around seven million.) The company will spend two months in the South, shooting locations in Kentucky, Louisiana and Tennessee.

10-Gallon Texas Hat Made in Connecticut

DALLAS (AP)—G. Warfield Hobbs, vice-president of the First National City Bank of New York, was presented a 10-gallon Texas hat by Dallas residents this week after he addressed the council of social agencies.

Afterwards, Hobbs took a closer look at his new hat and found it was made at Norwalk, Conn., five miles from his home.

Prince Takes Grace Kelly Aboard Yacht

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Prince Rainier III sailed his yacht Deo Juvante II alongside the ocean liner Constitution today and took off his bride-to-be Grace Kelly in a romantic Mediterranean rendezvous.

Thousands of Monacans and visitors lined the rocky Riviera coast to watch the reunion of tiny Monaco's ruling prince and the blonde American film beauty he will wed in ceremonies next Wednesday and Thursday.

The dockside was thronged with 3,000 tourists, newsmen, photographers and hundreds of Monacan schoolgirls wearing red and white ribbons—the national colors—in their hair.

Even the weatherman provided a welcome fit for a princess. The blue Mediterranean was almost glassy calm and it was a bright day, despite a few clouds overhead and darker skies to the north over the coast.

The couple denied binocular-equipped watchers on shore any glimpse of their first kiss after five weeks apart.

The 32-year-old prince stood on the bridge of his sleek, white 138-foot yacht as Miss Kelly stepped aboard from the big liner. Then Rainier hastened below to the private salon to greet his future wife in private.

Scores of small boats cut white wakes in the sea around the Constitution and the yacht. Light planes and helicopters circled overhead.

Gay pennants flew from the big liner, but the prince's 300-ton yacht carried only his royal flag, white with a gold crown. After Miss Kelly came aboard, the yacht hoisted the U.S. flag at the masthead with the royal colors.

As the Deo Juvante reentered the port of Monte Carlo, Miss Kelly and her prince came out on the bridge to receive a thunderous greeting. Lusty cheers

Cigar Store Indians Bring High Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of people went shopping yesterday — for wooden Indians.

Customers made like bargain-basement enthusiasts in paying an average of more than $500 apiece for the old cigar store statues.

"I've never known a sale to generate as much interest as this one," said Louis J. Marion, veteran auctioneer for Parke-Bernet Galleries.

"People love those wooden Indians."

A hundred of the rare figures, once familiar landmarks of the tobacco store in America, sold for $54,700.

"I'm very satisfied," said Carl W. Haffner, of Providence, R.I., whose father accumulated the redskins.

What did the buyers want with them?

Well, some plan to put them in their living rooms or hallways, or them in lobbies of business buildings or showrooms, display them in museums or for sale in antique shops.

More than 400 people crowded the auction room.

"Don't use my name," said one purchaser, admiring his $850, life-size wooden brave, holding a bundle of cigars and a plug of chewing tobacco. "This is going to be a surprise for my wife."

Highest price — $2,050 — went for a tall Indian chief, carved in thin silhouette, with long hair, feathered helmet and black tunic. It was bought for a "Southern museum."

Name of the museum, for which purchases were among the heaviest at the sale, was not made public, but it was reported to be at Richmond, Va. — with the bidder here acting for a donor.

A stern-faced chief, with feathered crown, golden earrings, fringed tunic and buckskin trousers, will go to the lobby of Newsday, a newspaper on New York's Long Island.

Harry G. Guggenheim, husband of publisher Alicia Patterson, bought the proud, old warrior for $1,025 for the newspaper building,

Convair Announces Date for Delivery Of Jet Transport

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair has announced it will offer for delivery early in 1960 the "Sky-lark 600" jet transport — termed by the company the fastest commercial airplane in the world.

The jet, costing $3,300,000 is designed as a one-stop transcontinental airplane but space in the wings for additional fuel tanks can make it non-stop cross-country, Convair said. Cruising speed will be 609 m.p.h. for the four-engine craft which is designed to operate from 5,000-foot runways and carry 80 passengers. Coach versions will carry 99.

It stands in front yards, set and also picked up a squaw for $350.

The 100 figures were about half of a huge collection, gathered during some 20 years of collecting Indian relics by the late Rudolph F. Haffner, of Providence.

The statues were recently turned over to the Narragansett Brewing Company Foundation, of which his son is trustee, to be sold with the proceeds to go for charitable and educational purposes.

Like Is Sent Farm Measure He Opposes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress last night plunged the farm issue more deeply into the 1956 political campaign by sending President Eisenhower a new farm bill loaded with features he opposes.

In an all-out rebuttal for Eisenhower engineered by Democratic leaders, first the House and then the Senate gave final approval to a measure which administration lieutenants predicted Eisenhower will veto.

Key Democrats, declaring it was this bill or nothing, predicted he would sign it.

Eisenhower, vacationing at Augusta, Ga., relayed word that he "still does not think the bill meets the test of a good bill."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said he was "deeply disappointed."

The bill contains one major provision Eisenhower sought. That is a soil bank program to pay farmers subsidies of as much as $1,200,000 a year for not planting cropland to commodities already in surplus.

But it includes a return to higher rigid price supports for this year, as well as other features which also would raise price props.

Eisenhower and Benson have repeatedly opposed such moves, contending they will only aggravate the problem by building up more surpluses.

GOP leaders made a last-ditch effort in the House to refashion the bill more to Eisenhower's liking.

They lost 238-181, losing 27 Republican votes on the test while picking up 14 Democratic ones.

The House then passed the bill 237-181, with 48 Republicans and 35 Democrats defecting from party lines.

The Senate promptly took up the bill, agreeing to vote after 3½ hours of debate.

Passage there was on a 50-35 roll call. Fifteen Republicans joined with 35 Democrats in voting for the measure; against it were 31 Republicans and 4 Democrats.

That put the issue squarely up to Eisenhower. There appeared no chance that Congress would override a veto.

Long Anniversary

DENVER (AP)—Denver plans a year-long celebration of its 100th anniversary. It will open in the summer of 1958 and extend into the fall of 1959. Denver was founded in 1858.

Convicted Thief Sets His Own Sentence

CHICAGO (AP)—A man convicted of auto theft set his own sentence yesterday.

Judge Alexander J. Napoli asked Adam Schumacher, 44, "what kind of sentence do you think you should get."

"Six months in jail," said Schumacher.

"Six months it is," said the judge.

They couldn't be caught if they weren't ill, so it generally is dangerous to pick up small wild animals.

Mail Order Shutters Become Big Business, No Longer 'Fad'

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
At about the time that Do-It-Yourself began making noises which presaged a boom, the revival of indoor louvered shutters was observed. Some folks put them both down as "fads."

Currently, Do-It-Yourself is a multi-multibillion-dollar business, and the demand for indoor window shutters and shutter doors seems insatiable. Signs point to continued growth of both "crazes," which are going on 10 years old.

Amateur and professional decorators alike apparently welcomed the comeback of movable louvered shutters. Why they fell out of favor to begin with is a question. Cost may be the answer.

From 1700 to the early part of the 19th century shutters were used extensively in finer homes. In fact, their use was restricted almost entirely to mansions. Making them called for hand labor by skilled craftsmen—an expensive proposition.

Today, scores of plants turn out standard and custom-made louvered shutter panels on a mass-production basis. Men and precision machines team up to produce faithful reproductions of oldtime shutters in volume, which means tremendous savings to the ultimate buyer.

To give you an idea of the precision with which these boys operate, one West Coast plant owner holds his shutters to within .010 inch of prescribed dimensions. He bills himself as "the world's oldest and largest manufacturer of movable interior shutters."

His shutters are replicas of the better-made antiques, even to the method of joinery. The panels are joined at corners by a full mortise and tenon, with a locking wedge, in much the same way that a hammer handle is attached. The joints resist expansion and contraction caused by the weather.

The manufacturer maintains a stock of 1600 shutter sizes, which can be adapted to fit about 90 per cent of all windows. Wood or steel casement windows, sash that open inward, windows with inside screens—practically none present shutter-fitting problems which can't be resolved.

The same is true of doorways, although shutters have to be custom built for peaked, arched and gothic-style openings.

Shutters are available unfinished or prefinished with paint or stain. They come complete with hardware—hinges, locking hooks and china knobs. Most shutters are made of white pine, but some may be specifically ordered of hardwood construction.

Although shutters are offered by leading department stores and decorators, mail order has played an important role in the shutter industry's success story.

By mail, the buyer furnishes accurate overall dimensions of shutters desired, indicates the number of panels required and makes other necessary specifications. Correctly proportioned shutters are returned in the mail.

Installation is quite simple, with complete instructions furnished by the manufacturer.

Worth checking into if you are shutter-conscious but budget-minded is whether the particular plant with which you place an order will part with second-line shutters. Panels which have failed to measure up to prescribed standards are often sold as seconds.

Although you may have to trim and fit the second-line panels yourself, money savings should offset the inconvenience.

Shower Need Not Drown Budget; Ingenuity Sets Table With Inexpensive Centerpiece

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Planning a shower for a summer bride-to-be? Perhaps, then, like some of the rest of us you're open to suggestions for settings that are as fancy, frivolous and feminine as such parties call for. Settings which won't require elaborate expenditures by the hostess or the guests are welcome.

Here's an idea I saw used recently that fits the requirements. A feminine color scheme of rose petal pink-and-white for the refreshment table is lovely to look at and easy to put together.

Theme of the shower is eminently practical: guests are asked to bring one or two of the small, inexpensive gadgets that they find indispensable to housekeeping.

These are wrapped in pretty papers and presented with a flourish on tiered holders. Items may include almost anything from a stapler, sharp paring knife or potato peeler to measuring spoons, glass measuring cup, tongs or what-have-you.

Makings for the centerpiece are as close as your own cupboards and the local variety stores. Tiered holders for the gifts can be improvised from three opaque white glass plates separated by a pair of short-stemmed, clear, glass candle holders.

Heart-shaped rose petal confetti pasted to a cardboard cone makes the fluttery parasol for the top of a holder. More of the petals, pasted or taped to pink crepe paper runners, trim the table center.

Low glass candle holders are dressed up for the date in pink petal-trimmed crepe paper ruffles. Perched on each napkin is a paper butterfly made with a pink pipe cleaner for the body and pink wings lightly speckled with painted dots.

To make the tiered holder you'll need three plates of graduated sizes — dinner, salad and bread-and-butter, for example.

Place one clear glass candleholder upside-down on the largest of the three plates and secure with transparent glue. Then glue the middle-size plate to the inverted base of this candle holder. Follow the same procedure with the second candle holder and the smallest plate.

Select the glue or paste according to whether you're going to leave the holder set up or take it apart after the party.

When I tried it with inexpensive plates I bought from the variety store, I used a paste that dissolved later in the dishwasher.

The effect, however, was quite handsome and tiered holders have enough uses so that you may prefer to use a stronger, more permanent adhesive.

New Hampshire was the first of the original 13 states to declare its independence from Great Britain and adopt a constitution. The date was Jan. 5, 1776, six months before the Declaration of Independence.

Charming centerpiece and other table decorations for a bridal shower are a blend of ingenuity and inexpensive materials from the variety store. Small gifts for the bride-to-be are wrapped in gay paper and displayed on the tiered centerpiece.

Tree Sitter Remembers
NILES, Mich. — His 25th anniversary as a tree sitter is being marked this year by Wilbert Jann. Back in 1930 when he was 13, he sat up in a tree for 25 days with a 14-year-old pal, Howard Davis. Their perch was a small wooden platform in the branches of a spreading maple tree.

It was then a new record. Looking back, he can see why tree sitting is something of a lost art. He says:

"I didn't feel any different when I came down than when I went up."

Jann is married and the father of nine children. He is head maintenance man at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Davis has died. So he has the tree.

Hal Boyle's Column—
Proper Age to Take Child
On Cruise Is 65 Years Old

By HAL BOYLE

ABOARD SS NASSAU At Sea — What is the proper age to take a child on a cruise?

Many parents ask this question. Homeward bound after a glorious two-week vacation tour of the Bahamas, I am a bit inclined to give this answer:

The proper age to take a child on a cruise is when it is 65 years old — and suffering from fallen arches. Then you can be reasonably sure of where it is.

Not that my wife, Frances, and I haven't been exactly unaware of the location of our young daughter, Tracy Ann.

We have always known exactly where she was. She has always been in one of three places:

1. Under the feet of the waiters in the dining room.
2. Fifteen steps ahead of our outstretched arms — and running in the wrong direction.
3. Trying to ride an upper rail piggy-back, with a rolling deck beneath one leg and maybe two miles of rolling ocean beneath the other.

This is the third cruise for Tracy. On the first one she was only 8 months old, and it was a breeze to push her around in a carriage. On the second cruise she was 19 months old, and still easy to handle. I put a leather harness on her and told her she was a pony. This more than pleased her, as at that age she would rather have been a horse than a grown-up.

But now she is 2 years and 9 months old and, like a cat settling down in new quarters, she has felt it necessary to explore every cranny of the ship. She has tried to help the chef cook pastry, the engineer to fuel the boilers, the captain to rule his bridge.

With some ships this wouldn't do at all. But this ship has an Italian crew, many of them homesick for their own families far away. Italians generally seem to have a theory that a child can do no wrong, and the crew members have so pampered Tracy that I'm afraid she'll be half way through college before I can unspoil her.

Right now I'm an ex-iron parent with the authority of a rubber band.

But the biggest blow has been to my athletic pride. Tracy is in the climbing stage, and every stairway is a challenge.

I didn't anticipate any real difficulty on that score, however. I come from a family of climbers — we rose from the coal mines to the swivel chair in only three generations. I have also climbed the dome of St. Peter's in Rome, the Eiffel Tower in Paris, and the Great Pyramid outside Cairo.

But these feats were as nothing compared with trying to keep pace with Tracy as she goat-leaped up one flight of ship's stairs and down the other. She's the lass who put the rope in antelope. After the first two days I started staying up to eat the midnight buffet so I'd have strength for the next morning's gallop.

Do I sound like an old crank? After all, the fresh air and exercise have caused Tracy to bloom like a lilac bush. And in the interludes between the times I have been frantically keeping her from falling overboard, we have had some unforgettable moments of companionship together.

Once, cuddling against my knee at the rail, she looked out at the sea and asked gravely, "What makes it so bumpy?"

"The wind does," I told her.

Tracy looked up at me dubiously, thought a while, then said: "Well, I guess I'll have to ask Mommy. You're teasing me."

What is the right age to take a child on a cruise?

The real answer I guess is — any age. The price of parenthood is constant fear. But wherever you go, you will worry less about a child if you take it with you than if you leave it behind. And you'll be a lot less lonesome!

Artichokes Are a Spring Offering

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Springtime artichokes are one of the delights of this time of year. So attractive to serve, such fun to pull off the leaves one by one and scrape away their succulent ends with willing teeth! Now you are down to the choke, a thistle affair that you carefully remove with fork and knife. Then at last something worth working and waiting for — the artichoke heart. Fleishy but delicate, it leaves a haunting after-taste.

The usual way to cook artichokes is in salted boiling water. Then the vegetable is drained and served hot or cold with a hollandaise sauce or browned butter. But when you've had your fill of one of these delectable duets, try our recipe for spicing the artichokes during the cooking, and serve them hot with plain melted butter; or chill the spiced artichokes and serve them with a mayonnaise dip. The spices come through beautifully, mingling with rather than obliterating the artichoke flavor.

SPICED ARTICHOKES

Ingredients: 6 medium-sized artichokes, 1 tablespoon olive oil, 1 tablespoon wine or cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, water, melted butter or mayonnaise dip.

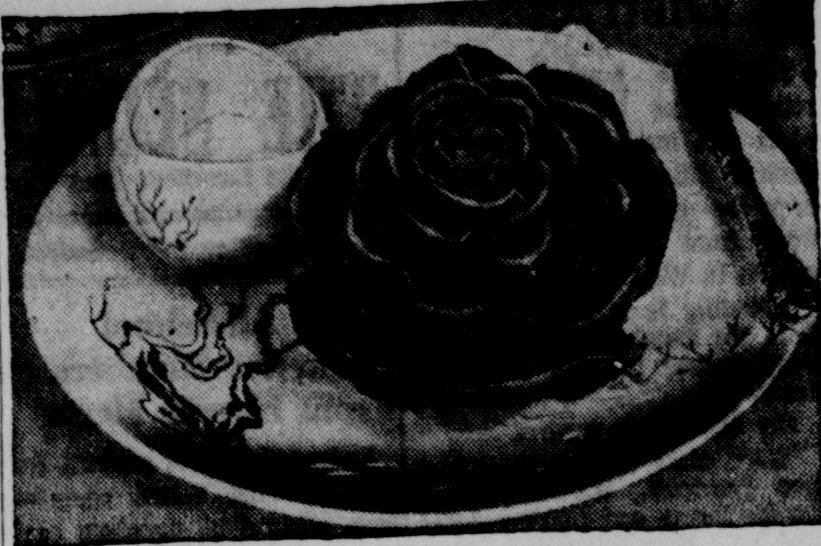

Method: Trim stems from artichokes and pull off any of the lowest leaves that seem tough or are damaged. Cut off about 1/2-inch of the top leaves; do this at one time with a sharp kitchen knife. Put artichokes, cinnamon cloves, olive oil, vinegar, salt and sugar in a kettle. Cover with water; bring to a boil; cover kettle and simmer for 45 minutes or until artichoke hearts are tender when pierced with a fork and the leaves will pull away readily. Remove artichokes from cooking liquid and drain well upside down. Serve hot with melted butter as a dip. Or chill and serve cold with a dip of homemade mayonnaise well seasoned with lemon juice and prepared mustard. Makes 6 servings.

RECENT COOK BOOKS

If springtime spurs you on to new culinary efforts, here are some recently published cook books that you may enjoy looking into.

"The World's Best Recipes" by Marvin Small (Hawthorn Books Inc., New York). Most of these recipes were chosen from distinguished cook books; some come from restaurateurs; a third group contains favorite dishes of well-known people. The author has put all these rules into standard form, with ingredients clearly listed and preparation directions in numbered paragraphs. Chosen with taste, these recipes should give lots of eating pleasure. An introduction to the book and a check-list of cookery books by Helmut Ripberger are a delightful addition.

"Around the World in Eighty Dishes" by Lesley Blanch (Harper & Brothers, New York). Although Miss Blanch put these recipes together for young Americans from 10 to 20, they will also be of interest to seasoned cooks. The recipes represent the cuisines of Europe, The Balkans, The Middle East, The Pacific, Central and South America, but the ingredients for them are readily available in this country. Because Miss

Investment Company Hits $2 Billion

Investors Diversified Services, Inc. has reached the $2 billion mark in net assets under its management, Joseph M. Fitzsimmons, president, announced today. The 62 year old investment corporation ranks among the top 25 financial institutions in the United States. Lee W. Deason, 1422 South Beacon, is zone manager in this area for IDS.

Net assets under management by IDS, including those of its subsidiaries and affiliates, passed $1 billion in June 1952 and have doubled in less than four years. Founded in 1894, the company had net assets of $2,400 at the close of its first year in business.

The investors group has more than 810,000 customer accounts which are individually serviced by over 2,600 representatives in the IDS sales organization covering the United States, Hawaii and Canada, in addition to the extensive account processing done at the home office. IDS representatives distribute only the securities of the companies in the investors group.

"One of the dominant factors in the growth of the investors group has been the service we render to investors, small and large alike, who hold face-amount investment certificates issued by our three subsidiaries, and own shares in our five mutual funds," president Fitzsimmons commented.

In addition to Investors Diversified Services, Inc., the investors group includes five mutual investment funds — Investors Mutual, Inc., Investors Stock Fund, Inc., Investors Selective Fund, Inc., Investors Group Canadian Fund Ltd. and Investors Mutual of Canada Ltd. Subsidiaries which issue face-amount investment certificates are Investors Syndicate of America, Inc., Investors Syndicate Title & Guaranty Co., and Investors Syndicate of Canada, Limited.

Ocean Salt May Provide Spices of Life

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

DALLAS (AP)—Someday you may sprinkle your food with ocean salt to give yourself some vital spices of life and health.

These "spices" would be traces of minerals like iron, calcium, fluoride and iodine to ward off anemia, rickets, tooth decay and goiter.

Ocean salt is rich in these and more than 30 other minerals, besides the sodium chloride of pure table salt.

These potentialities in sea salt were described today to the American Chemical Society in a report by Drs. Arnold E. Schaefer, Olaf Mickelsen, R. B. Ing, and the late H. R. Standstead of the National Institute of Health and National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases, U.S. Public Health Service, Bethesda, Md.

About 70 per cent of sea salt is sodium chloride or ordinary salt; the rest is traces of all the other minerals. Many people over the world eat only ocean salt.

Goiter, caused by lack of iodine, is virtually unknown among them. Rickets from lack of calcium is not common, even though many of these people don't get enough calcium in their foods.

Many also avoid anemia from lack of iron because of iron in sea salt, the scientists said.

People in some areas of India have far less tooth decay than children in Boston, yet their drinking water contains about the same amount of fluoride, credited with building teeth resistant to decay. The Indians may get their fluoride protection through sea salt, the report said.

The scientists cited a Rutgers University study which found that pigs receiving sea salt gained more weight and appeared superior to pigs eating regular salt. A successful process of prepar-

'Santa' Gets Money To Pay Hospital Bill

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Robert Tice received $5,412 yesterday to pay his hospital and medical bills.

"I've always believed in Santa Claus and now I know that he really does exist," said Tice who is still recovering from critical injuries received in an automobile wreck shortly before Christmas.

For many years Tice has played Santa for handicapped and shut-in children. The money was contributed by residents of the area.

Thinks Household Efficiency Expert Is Not Ideal Husband

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Whenever I get the blues, I can cheer myself up immediately by being thankful that I am not married to a man whose business is household efficiency.

Can you imagine how awful it would be, for instance, to have as a husband the publisher of a women's service magazine, who comes home every night with new suggestions for improving your own fumbling household routine? A man who spends his working day among time and motion experts and anti-septic test kitchens and experts in every field of homemaking?

I should think it would give any wife a lifelong inferiority complex to be married to a man who knows more about housekeeping than she does. Such a man, for instance, as Howard S. Cohoon, of Jackson, Miss., who is head of a company which makes numerous household products, and who has worked up a homemaker's forum inviting women all over the country to send in household hints.

Now don't get me wrong. Cohoon is a charming gentleman, with an attractive wife and a happy family consisting of son, daughter and two grandchildren.

I am told that Mrs. Cohoon shows no signs of the complexes which I am sure would harass me if I were in her shoes. She even encourages her husband to give prizes, such as trips to Florida, for the homemakers who send in the best hints. All I can say is she must be a paragon among women, and she must run the most efficient household in the world.

While chatting with homemaker expert Cohoon over lunch in New York the other day, I learned that he now has a roster of more than a half million women who have sent in their most prized household hints for his consideration.

"They come in at the rate of about 20,000 a month," said Cohoon. "We invite women to send in these hints over various radio and television programs, in newspapers and magazines and on the labels of the products."

"It's amazing how many bright ideas for short cuts and thrift arrive by every mail. And what surprises me is how many brand new ideas keep coming in. You'd think after a while they'd already have thought of everything. But there are fewer repetitions than you would think possible."

Cohoon and his cohorts will take

Police Chief Heads Vehicle Safety Check

Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors has been named general chairman of the vehicle safety check to be conducted in Sedalia during May as part of a nation-wide program to help motorists become aware of the importance of keeping vehicles in safe operating condition.

Motorists in the area will be urged to have vehicles checked at community safety check lanes. Ten items affecting safe operating condition of vehicles are included in the safety check: brakes, front lights, rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror and horn.

Nearly one and a half million vehicles were checked in a similar program during May 1955 at safety check lanes in 422 communities, in dealer service departments, and at independent garages and service stations. One out of every five vehicles safety checked was in need of maintenance attention to one or more parts affecting safe operation.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, state safety coordinator and superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, says that the nation-wide vehicle safety check is sponsored by the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, Look Magazine and the National Safety Council in cooperation with the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators, of which he is a regional officer.

Harlan County Jail Won't Hold Water

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Harlan County jail may hold prisoners but it doesn't hold water.

Six prisoners flooded portions of the jail to protest their confinement to cells for attempting a break.

The water seeped through the second floor, down to the first floor lobby and into the office of the circuit court clerk.

The prisoners stopped the drains in their lavatories and turned on the water full force, after being denied freedom of the lockup area.

'Visit-Vision' Will Enable Visit With Disease Patients

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Now it's possible to "visit" hospital patients with communicable diseases without making direct contact with the patients.

"Visit-vision"—a new electronic gadget which permits this—was displayed today at the annual convention of the Ohio Hospital Assn. It was first introduced at Morristown, N.J., earlier this month.

Here's how it works: In the patient's room is a miniature television camera with a viewing screen and a special telephone. The hospital lobby would have the same equipment.

The visitor, from the lobby, dials the channel tuned to the patient's room. Visitor and patient

Merit Pay Proposed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A suggestion that students pay university professors personally at the end of each semester on the basis of the quality of their instruction was advanced in the Washington University Campus newspaper.

"If instructor A was judged best of a student's teachers he would receive, perhaps $100 of the total tuition," said an editorial in Student Life. "If B were good, but not so good, he would receive $50 and so on."

The newspaper has been critical of "too many mediocre faculty members" and an increase in tuition.

Liquid Miracle! No washday powder ever made can give you the concentrated washing power of new blue instant liquid Wisk

The instant Wisk hits water, it bursts into millions of wet, live, liquid suds, liquid suds with concentrated washing power that get out dirt and stains dry, lazy, powder suds can't even budge.

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

LIQUID MIRACLE!
WISK washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash!

LIQUID MIRACLE!
WISK removes more stains than any powder! Wet stain with water. Spread WISK directly on stain. Put in machine with rest of wash. WISK gets everything clean.

LIQUID MIRACLE!
WISK is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made! WISK is safe as only a liquid can be. Safe for delicate fabrics, colors. Safe for hands. And no sneezes!

New, blue WISK is different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washer. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequalled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics—safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, but thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is! It does away with "washday hay fever"... with clumsy, soggy boxes... with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with all those boxes and bottles you used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree that WISK is the best detergent you've ever used—not just as good, but the BEST!—we at Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you... plus postage!

Try Sparkling New Dessert: Flans

WELL ESTABLISHED in English and French cuisines, flans are easily made in American kitchens.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Flans, eaten with relish in France and England, have always intrigued us. But we never tried to make this dessert because flans, in which the pastry for the sweet is usually baked, are hard to come by. Recently a friend showed us how to achieve a flan with an ordinary round layer-cake pan.

The pastry for our flan is delightful — crisp, tender and short. It's a rich golden color, too, due to the new yellow shortening that is used in its making. A layer of strawberries is placed over the baked pastry, then a layer of Vanilla Cream is added and last a meringue. For a garnish, sliced bananas are tip-tilted around its edge. The bananas hide a surprise: they give no hint of the luscious springtime strawberries hidden in the filling's creamy depths.

MERINGUE CREAM FLAN

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup new golden yellow shortening, 3 to 4 tablespoons water, halved small fresh strawberries, Vanilla Cream, 4 egg whites, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 large banana.

Method: Sift together the flour and salt into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening with a pastry blender until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Sprinkle water over, 1 tablespoon at a time, and mix lightly with a fork until all flour is moistened. Gather dough into a ball and roll out on a lightly floured pastry cloth with a stockinet-covered rolling pin into a circle about 10 inches in diameter. (Don't roll too thin; there should be few pastry scraps left after trimming.) Place a round layer-cake pan (8 by 1½ inches) upside down on a baking sheet. Transfer the rolled pastry to the outside of the cake pan and gently press it around the pan, making small tucks at even intervals if necessary. Trim off overhanging pastry with a sharp knife, cutting against baking sheet. Prick bottom and sides of pastry at about 1-inch intervals with a fork. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 16 to 18 minutes or until pastry is a golden color. Cool. Place flat serving dish on top of pan. Arrange two layers of strawberries in bottom of pastry flan and pour warm Vanilla Cream over them. Allow to stand until Vanilla Cream is cold. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar and salt until frothy. Gradually and thoroughly beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time; continue to beat until meringue is glossy and will hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Beat in vanilla. Pile meringue lightly over edges of pastry; with the back of a tablespoon, swirl the meringue into graceful peaks. Place in a hot (425) degrees oven until peaks are lightly browned — 5 to 6 minutes. Just before serving, peel banana and run tines of a fork lengthwise down it; slice thin. Press fluted banana slices between meringue and pastry edge.

VANILLA CREAM

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, 3 cups milk, 4 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon vanilla.

Method: Sift flour, cornstarch, salt and sugar together thoroughly in a saucepan. Add milk gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened and boiling. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks slightly; gradually and vigorously stir a little of the hot filling into the yolks; stir back into mixture in saucepan. Cook and stir constantly over low heat for 2 minutes. Stir in vanilla; cover tightly and cool. Use as directed in Meringue Cream Flan recipe.

Woman Walks Thru Plate Glass Window

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Deputy say Mrs. Cecelia Tomp walks into the new Firestone sheriff station — right through a plate glass window.

She was treated at a hospital for a gashed right arm and forehead.

Officers said Mrs. Tomp, 42, a suburban Downey, had been called in to get her 14-year-old son picked up for a minor infraction. Apparently, in her excitement they said, she didn't realize she was walking into the large, closed window at the front of the lobby.

Trust rich, wholesome MILNOT to turn even leftovers into a delicious main dish! MILNOT is more concentrated than whole milk. It's creamier—more nutritious. So economical, too!

1 can MILNOT
2 cups cubed cooked ham, beef, lamb or veal
1 tablespoon minced onion
½ teaspoon salt (except with ham)
½ cup grated American cheese, if desired

½ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives, if desired
4 medium-sized potatoes, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
(½ cup grated American cheese, if desired)

Mix meat, onion, salt, pepper and olives. Alternate layers of meat mixture and potatoes, sprinkling potatoes with flour, in greased 1½-quart casserole. Pour MILNOT over top. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 1 hour, remove cover for last 15 minutes of cooking time and sprinkle with cheese, if desired. 6 servings.

Regular Spring Clean-up Helps Prevent Fires

Uncontrolled fire strikes more than 600,000 buildings in the United States every year. Fire causes a yearly waste of $1,000,000,000 and kills 33 Americans every day, 12,000 every year.

These are a few sobering facts to remember as the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the National Fire Protection Association launch their annual Spring Clean-Up attack against fires.

The USDA and the NFPA point out that well over half of all buildings struck by fire are private dwellings—homes. And this is equally true in both the country or the city.

It is particularly important that farmers, whose homes and outlying buildings are generally beyond the easy reach of fire departments, join the Spring Clean-Up campaign and get rid of useless quick-burning rubbish, perfect tinder for any stray spark. "Remember," says the Pettis County 4-H Safety Council "a clean home seldom burns."

There are many different kinds of rubbish, but these fast-burning items are most common: old linens, cast-off clothing, mattresses, old furniture, curtains, draperies, lampshades, magazines, papers, linoleum and rags.

Check for these at once in your closets, attic, basement and outbuildings.

Nearly 1,100,000,000 household electric light bulbs are sold in the United States annually.

Union Bulwark At Grass Roots

Like all decent elements in our society, labor leaders are speaking out against the cowardly assault on Victor Riesel, New York labor columnist, into whose face some racketeer threw acid because the writer had been exposing rotten conditions in some New York unions.

Union labor in Missouri applauds George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, who in a speech before the first convention session of the Missouri State Labor Council AFL-CIO in Kansas City, declared "the greatest danger to the American labor movement is the one per cent within its own ranks which has a goal of other than the furtherance of the trade union movement."

As though pointing a finger at the ugly crimes committed by an infinitesimal segment of the unions, Meany warned against allowing the underworld to gain a foothold in union ranks. He declared: "It is the workers who must see that those are eliminated from the ranks who would engage in actions to the damage of the labor movement."

Drew Pearson Says—

Kefauver Queried on VP Runningmate

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — This week in New Jersey, the vice-presidential shoe was on the other foot for Estes Kefauver. Hitherto he has been asked whether he would run for vice president. But at a press conference in Trenton, with Governor Meyner of New Jersey standing somewhat embarrassed beside him, Kefauver was quizzed: "Will you take Governor Meyner as your vice-presidential running mate, senator?" "He's a fine man," parried Kefauver, "and I certainly would take him. But we have a lot of fine leaders in the party, and I think the final choice should be left to the convention."

Just six months ago, mutual friends of Kefauver and Stevenson sounded Adlai out as to whether he would take Kefauver as his running mate. Stevenson said that he would make no commitment, that there were many fine Democrats who would make good vice presidents, that the matter must be left to the Chicago convention.

He added that if Kefauver ran against him in the primaries and made him go to the expense and trouble of stumping the different states, then he would never take Kefauver for vice president.

Near East War?
Reason for Prime Minister Eden's personal query to President Eisenhower wanting to know exactly how far the United States would go in blocking war in the Near East is the tremendous buildup of Egyptian-Arab forces along the Israeli border.

Both U.S. and British intelligence have warned their governments that on the basis of this troop concentration, war is likely to explode almost any minute. They even warned, some 60 days ago, that the war deadline was likely to be in April.

Here are the details of the Egyptian-Arab buildup:
Egyptian armed forces began massing in January in the Sinai, south of Israel's Negev border.

By the end of March, nearly three divisions, fully equipped, were along the border. Stockpiling of munitions started before this to make these divisions independent of Egyptian bases in the Suez.

The armored units include Sherman tanks, Russian tanks, British Centurian tanks and Russian artillery.

Russian artillery has been installed along the Gaza strip.
Egyptian and Saudi Arabian forces have now been almost completely unified. The new British jets which Egypt "sold" to Saudi Arabia will be flown by Egyptian pilots.

A pincers movement from Egypt on one side and Saudi Arabia on the other would catch Israel in between. King Saud recently stated that Saudi Arabia, Syria and Egypt had worked out plans to rescue "bleeding Palestine."

The British have decided to use military force, under certain circumstances, in order to stabilize at least one area of the Near East—Jordan and Iraq. But they have been unable to get any word from either President Eisenhower or Secretary Dulles as to what the United States will do.

FDR's Sailing Sloop
Today being the anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, it's interesting to note the attitude of current Washington officials regarding a prized memento of the late president which was offered by his son James to the Navy for the midshipmen at Annapolis—namely, FDR's old sailing sloop.

It was while sailing around Nova Scotia as

Guest Editorial—

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH: Refrigerators Safe For Children. Seven months ago we asked whether it was beyond the manufacturers' ingenuity to develop an electric refrigerator which could be opened from within so that children who playfully crawled inside would not be trapped. The Admiral Corporation now informs us that it has invented an inside safety release and placed it on new models.

In the past 10 years 113 children in 15 states have lost their lives in refrigerators, some of which had been abandoned and some of which were in operation. Eighteen were victims last year alone. Five children in one Arkansas family met death in this way.

The innovation which the Admiral Corporation has introduced is a laudable step forward.

The latter should take a look at those within its own ranks while it is studying those who oppose the movement. In the trade union movement, better than 99 per cent of our members are good, solid, decent Americans."

There is much substance in what George Meany says. The decent element of union labor has control and should assert in when challenged by a minority intent on using the trade union movement for racketeering or ulterior designs to promote disunity.

Another warning sounded by the labor leader was to the effect that the trade union movement was wasting material, time and energy in its members fighting each other.

We believe the responsibility for protecting unionism against the flea bites of discordant elements which may develop into an epidemic of distrust and disunity, lies with the decent, individual union man who should meet the challenge at the grass roots level—in his own local when it is threatened by the hoodlums and crackpots.

a boy that the late President developed his great love for ships. Later he became Assistant Secretary of the Navy and, as President, built the Navy up to its greatest strength in all history.

However, Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas ruled that he didn't want FDR's sloop at the naval academy or anywhere else.

The sloop was then offered to the Smithsonian Institution. A sign at the entrance of the Smithsonian reads: "The historical collections of the Smithsonian illustrate the lives and times of American historical personages and the material circumstances of the periods during which they lived."

However, the Smithsonian turned FDR's sloop down—for reasons of space.
Following this, I happened to be at the Smithsonian, actually not to check on its space, but because my grandson wanted to see all its relics.

Among the assortment of trophies I noted: Eight Eskimo kayaks, about the same size as the Roosevelt sloop; 14 dugout canoes; a lengthy model of the SS Mauretania, which is British; of the SS Statendam, which is Dutch; of the SS Empress of Russia, which is Canadian.

But the payoff was a model of the SS Pilsudski of the Polish Gdynia-American line, now Communist.

Note—Another space-consuming exhibit in the Smithsonian was dedicated to Samuel Langley, its secretary between 1887-1906.

Alibi for Lost Autoist

Next time you get lost on a vacation trip and someone starts grumbling, there's but one thing to do.

Stop the car and calmly explain that according to the U. S. Geographical Survey only about 37 per cent of the United States is adequately mapped. So there.

Such undisputed authority should quell the most persistent back-seat driver or in-law.
This may be your gain, but Gerald Fitzgerald, chief topographical engineer of the survey, wishes it wasn't so.

Postwar government water, mineral and highway programs "have caught us with our maps down," he confessed to the American Congress on Surveying and Mapping meeting in Washington recently.

Worse yet, the country won't be adequately mapped for another 17 years, he predicts. Seems that the current rate of mapping is about 4 per cent a year.

So don't feel too badly when you lose your way, for Uncle Sam will be groping around himself for a long time to come.

Nehru Visit to U.S.

Relations between the U. S. and India have reached such a low ebb that the upcoming visit here by Jawaharlal Nehru can at worst do no harm. And unless the unpredictable Indian prime minister unloads some noticeable anti-American barbs, it is safe to say his brief stay in Washington next July will do some good.

Nothing replaces personal contact. The sincerity and persuasiveness of President Eisenhower should help to warm, if not defrost, some of Nehru's chilly attitudes toward the U. S.

Now an experienced negotiator, Mr. Eisenhower should be able to field any gripes the prime minister throws his way. For one important purpose of the broad discussions will be to explain U. S. policies to Nehru and convince him of our peaceful aims.

We hope, however, that the prime minister will be called upon to explain his sharp and often unjustified criticism of the U. S. This will be as good an occasion as any to find out where we stand with Nehru, who has often exhibited favoritism toward Red China and the Soviet Union.

How Would US Join Middle East Fight?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing this government has said actually pledges it to get into Middle East fighting—in order to stop it—if war breaks out there between Israelis and Arabs. If war starts, the United States may go in.

How would it go about it? In the first place, President Eisenhower almost certainly would seek approval by Congress, just as he got advance approval in 1955 to try to stop any Red Chinese attempt to take Formosa.

He would also almost certainly seek approval by the United Nations, just as President Truman got U.N. approval for sending troops into Korea.

On May 25, 1950—one month to the day before the North Korean Communists attacked South Korea—the United States, Britain and France were concerned with keeping peace in the Middle East.

The Israelis and Arabs had fought a bloody war there. The three big powers on May 25 announced an agreement to take immediate action if either Israelis or Arabs violated the armistice.

They said they would act "both within and outside the United Nations to prevent such violation." They undoubtedly were thinking of the U.N. Security Council, where the Russians were in a good spot to block action in the Middle East.

This is why: Under the U.N. Charter the members—there are 76 now—pledge themselves to take collective action to keep peace.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The Rev. P. P. Hummill, a former pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, died at Mexico, Mo., after an illness of about two years.

1931
Ennis H. Courtney and nephew, William R. Courtney, opened a joint office in the Sedalia Trust Co. building to conduct a life insurance agency and general investment business.

1931
The Rev. John Stuart Mill, director of Christian churches for this district, addressed a banquet of the Men's Club at the Capitol Avenue Christian Church, Jefferson City.

1931
The Camden County Court granted Andrew Ellison, Kansas City attorney, a five-year permit for operation of a ferry across the Lake of the Ozarks south of Versailles to connect with a four-mile spur road at Hurricane Deck.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Tullis were in Kansas City, the former to transact business and Mrs. Tullis to attend the Boston Grand Opera concert.

1916
The Rev. R. C. Williamson, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, John Montgomery, Jr., and the Rev. J. D. Prigmore, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, were in Appleton City attending a meeting of the Sedalia Presbytery.

1916
John P. Gordon, state auditor, was here from Jefferson City in interest of his candidacy for re-nomination to that office.

1916
Julius C. Hughes, chairman of the state committee of the Prohibition Party, called a meeting of delegates to a state convention in Sedalia May 11-12.

and stop acts of aggression.

Under the charter, as originally set up, the 11-member Security Council was supposed to make any such decision for the U.N. to act collectively. But such a decision requires unanimous approval of the five permanent members of the council—the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Nationalist China.

If one of the big five vetoed such action, there presumably could be none. And Russia, as it had demonstrated often, might use the veto.

So, by saying they would act within or outside the U.N. to stop any Middle East aggression, the United States, Britain, and France seemed to be saying they'd act if Russia cast a veto.

One month later the Korean War began. By a freak of history, Russia was boycotting the Council meetings.

On June 25, 1950, the day the war began, the Council met. With Russia absent, it approved a cease-fire resolution that paved the way for Truman on June 27 to send American forces into Korea to stop the war.

That same day, June 27, the Council passed an American-authored resolution calling on U.N. members to help South Korea repel the North Korean Communist attack.

That incident made it a cinch Russia wouldn't be absent from the council if such circumstances arose again. If then it cast a veto on U.N. action to stop fighting, the world organization would be paralyzed.

The United States took steps to make that impossible. On Nov. 3, 1950, it got the U.N. general Assembly—all members take part—and there is no veto—to approve this plan:

If in the future the Security Council did not make a decision to stop the outbreak of war by throwing U.N. forces into it, the General Assembly could vote by a two-thirds majority for U.N. action.

So if war should break out in the Middle East—and if Eisenhower wants to put American forces into the area to bring peace—he will probably first get congressional approval, then seek Security Council approval. If he fails there, he then could seek approval by the General Assembly where the Communists are outnumbered.

Your Child's Health—

Certified, Pasteurized Milk Designed to Guard Health

Milk is a highly desirable food. Its nutritional value is excellent since it contains proteins, minerals, fats, vitamins and other substances which are needed by the human body.

Milk should be properly collected and treated by pasteurization since if contaminated by germs it can be the source of such diseases as undulant fever, septic sore throat or tuberculosis.

I have been asked to explain what is meant by certified and pasteurized milk.

Ordinarily certified milk is that which has been obtained from specially selected dairy herds and collected and distributed under conditions of rigid care.

Pasteurized milk has been heated to just below the boiling point for a while to kill the germs which might attack human beings. This process does not affect significantly the overall value of milk in the diet.

Some certified milk is also pasteurized. The fact that milk is labeled pasteurized but not certified does not mean that it was not also obtained from inspected cows and not as carefully handled.

Mrs. G. has recently written that she has a little two-year-old boy who seems frail and she has started him on pasteurized goat milk. She wonders if this is a wise change.

Actually, this is rather hazardous since goats may harbor the germ which causes Malta fever or undulant fever and some other bacteria, and this could be passed on to the youngster.

It is essential, I think, that the goat from which the milk comes should be given a clean bill of health by a veterinarian before the milk is given to the little boy. It would greatly add to the safety and probably would not interfere with the value of the milk very much to have it pasteurized also.

Another correspondent says she has recently moved to a farm and wants to know of a method of pasteurizing on which she can rely.

An electric pasteurizer would be best, but if she cannot get one it is possible to do a fair job with a double boiler.

The milk should be brought to a temperature of at least 143 degrees and kept there for several minutes. It is safer to overdo it than to underdo the heating. This method is, however, likely to alter the taste more than either commercial pasteurization or a home electrical machine.

As Sedalia Sees It—

Suggest Air Force Academy Should Be One for Science

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Democrat-Capitol

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congressman Dan Flood (D-Pa.) wants to rename the new Air Force Academy the United States Academy of Science.

Flood is a member of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense. After listening to testimony from Pentagon officials, he concluded the Air Force Academy is nearly "obsolete."

Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben Robertson gave subcommittee members the lowdown on the guided missile development program. A reading of his testimony, and of the questions put to him by the Congressmen, suggests that:

1. Our scientists are perfecting an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) with a 5,000 mile range.
2. Manned aircraft—those with pilots—are on the way out. In 20 years electronic gadgets will completely replace the human pilot.
3. The surface Navy also may be obsolete in 20 years.
4. Russia may have a better intermediate-range ballistic missile (IRBM) than we do.

What depressed Congressman

Flood was the thought that the useful life of the Air Force Academy may be no more than 20 years. "This Air Force Academy is a waste of time as originally planned in the face of missile warfare," Flood observed. "I think you should make it a Science Academy," he added.

Other Congressmen also wondered if the government should attempt to relieve the shortage of scientists by establishing a science school along the lines of the service academies. Assistant Secretary Robertson said there is a "strong body of opinion that feel that with our great scientific schools such as MIT and California Tech and very many others—"

"Texas Tech," interjected Congressman George Mahon, at this point. He's from Texas.

"That our best approach," Robertson continued, "is to use the existing structure . . ." Robertson also saw a continuing need for the Air Force Academy, which was established to train leadership.

Robertson conceded Russia may have edged us in certain areas of missile development. But on the overall, he said, we have the lead. For example, he said our "retaliatory capability" is greater.

And he pointed out that building range into the missile was just a phase of the problem. "Actually we are in a position to fire distances in the immediate future," he said.

Well, Congressman Flood, replied, "why don't you fire one 1,500 miles, and prove you did it?" And then Flood suggested, follow up by firing a missile 5,000 miles.

"Sir," Robertson replied, "I think some of these things you are indicating are done as a step in the testing program."

The question of defending the nation from attack by guided missiles was discussed. Apparently our long hairs feel some defense may be possible. Special tracking missiles will hunt and destroy in flight the missiles hurtling toward us.

Won't these developments de-commission the Navy, wondered Congressman Edward Miller (R-Md.). "The thing I have in mind is this," Miller said, "if you even come anywhere near defense against a guided missile or a ballistic missile certainly it would not be much of a problem to track down and destroy anything on the surface of the water. Would not surface combat ships be absolutely obsolete?"

Robertson said the problem of tracking ships on the water differed from the problem of tracking objects traveling through the air. But he did agree submarines might outlast surface ships as weapon vehicles.

Make Your Own Fiesta Blouse From Basic Pattern, Ruffles

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Any time is fiesta time, when you wear a ruffled bullfighter's shirt with a gaily decorated slim necktie. You can make it yourself on your sewing machine, using a few simple decorative stitches and a little imagination.

Even if your favorite shirt pattern doesn't call for ruffles, you can add the frills to a plain pattern. Local sewing center experts tell you how to insert ruffles along the front and on the cuffs.

To make ruffles, cut straight strips of fabric 2½ inches wide. Fold in half, right side out. Press folded edge. Turn in raw edges ¼ inch and press. Use the scallop disc for your automatic swing-needle machine, or the same stitch on the automatic zigzag attachment for your straight-needle machine. Set at a 4 bight and 30 stitches to the inch, and run a line of narrow black (or other contrasting color) scallops along the folded edge of each strip. Gather ruffles, using the ruffler attachment.

Make allowance for ruffles before cutting out blouse pattern. Using tissue paper pattern, draw parallel lines ¼ inch apart down each side of shirt front. Cut along these lines. Back pattern piece with tissue paper and spread each slit to ¾ inch. This will give you seam allowance for inserting ruffles. Cut out blouse pattern and slit fabric along lines on tissue. Insert a strip of ruffling in each slit. Turn under raw edges of slits. Press and stitch. Insert ruffles on cuff. Complete construction of blouse.

It is possible to attach ruffles by using a satin stitch, without slitting the blouse. However, the insertion technique provides a smoother finish.

To make the tie, cut fabric 18 inches long and 2½ inches wide. Fold in half lengthwise and make two parallel lines ½ inch away from center line on each side. Then open out flat and back with two layers of organdie.

Using automatic swing-needle machine or automatic zigzag attachment, set machine for a satin stitch. Stitch satin stitch design on the tie along lines marked, which will be on front side of tie, a one-inch strip. Use the bead disc, set for a 2 bight, for the middle row of stitching. The rows on either side of the bead stitch are done with the icicle stitch disc, set for a 5 bight. The outside rows are done with the scallop stitch disc, set for a 2 bight. After stitching, cut away organdie backing at last stitching line.

To finish the tie, fold back seam allowance and hand-stitch on back of tie. Turn up bottom edges. Cut a strip of fabric ¾ inch wide and 1½ inches long. Fold lengthwise so there are no raw edges and press. Place a hook and eye on end of ¼ inch elastic cut to neck measurement. Fold tie over elastic 1½ inches from one end of tie. Use narrow strip of fabric to secure tie in position.

Masai tribesmen of Kenya and Tanganyika have no written language.

Batteries of Linotype Machines help make Unity's Printing Department among the largest in the Midwest International headquarters of the Unity School of Christianity is a Jackson County landmark located on U. S. Highway 50, two miles north of Lee's Summit.

The Unity School of Christianity was established in 1889 by Charles and Myrtle Fillmore. Two sons of the couple, Lowell Fillmore and Rickert Fillmore, today carry on the work of their pioneering parents.

Some 4,000,000 magazines, pamphlets, booklets and other literature are printed each month by Unity. Most are in English, but translations are printed in 12 other languages and Braille. This huge printing task and companion assignments like answering inquiries numbering some 30,000 a month, occupy 800 employees working in the many buildings which dot Unity Farm.

Engineering and architectural design are capably coordinated by Unity's own organization under the direction Rickert Fillmore. The imposing group of buildings is noted for beauty and structural stability achieved through the use of pre-cast concrete in fully eighty percent of all construction.

The Unity School of Christianity, utilizing electric power for its varied operations, is an industrial customer of the Missouri Public Service Company.

Scientific Well

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The plant engineer of a shoe factory says he is convinced that cosmic rays echo in the artesian well that reaches 400 feet below the basement of the plant.

Scientists have been studying reaction of the well to cosmic rays. It has also been known for 10 years that, water in the well is agitated by earthquakes.

Elmer E. Rexin, the engineer, says that cosmic rays cause unusual sounds to come from the well. He thinks that as the cosmic strike the surface of nearby Lake Michigan and travel along it to the well by way of an underground water passage connecting lake and well.

The impulses are picked up by shielded and insulated wires dipping 150 feet below the surface of the well water and are transmitted to a loud speaker that converts them into sound. An attached cathode ray oscilloscope shows them as beams of light.
